

Wrentham Bank Bandits Captured SHAKEUP IN POLICE DEPARTMENT Pomona Grangers Hold Fall Meeting Here

TWO NEW POLICE SERGEANTS TO BE NAMED—OTHER OFFICERS TO BE TRANSFERRED

It was announced today that tomorrow Patrolmen Joseph H. Johnson and Charles S. Sharkey, both on the eligible list for promotion, will be made sergeants in the Lowell police department. At the same time changes in the department will go into effect that will take Sergt. Frank Moloney from outside duty to the liquor and vice squad and Lieut. Michael H. Winn, recently promoted from the rank of sergeant, will go to outside duty on the early night shift. Both Patrolmen Johnson and Sharkey have seen service in the department for about 14 years.

CONSTITUTIONALITY OF LAW DIRECT- ED AGAINST KU KLUX KLAN UPHELD IN NEW YORK

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 7.—Supreme Court Justice Pooley today upheld the constitutionality of the New York state law which requires registration with the secretary of state of the membership rolls of incorporated secret fraternal organizations. The law was directed specifically against the Ku Klux Klan.

SUITS AGAINST LOWELL POLICE DEAD MAN TOTAL $12,000 LINE IN N. Y.

Two actions of tort in the total amount of $12,000 have been brought in superior court here by Alphonse Guilmette of Chelmsford, a minor, and his father, Alfred Guilmette, against Henry L. Adams of this city, who was charged with negligence and the care of a car which he was driving on the night of Nov. 7, 1923, by an automobile operated by Adams and charged the latter with negligent and careless operation and insufficient headlights. The defendant denies all allegations and says in reply that the plaintiff was not in the exercise of due care at the time of the accident. The father sues in the sum of $2000 for loss of his son's services and for medical care.

Quinn T. Rogers appears for the plaintiffs, with Kerwin and Reilly for the defendant.

AUTO RUNS INTO POLE, ONE KILLED, FIVE HURT

NEW BEDFORD, Nov. 7.—Joseph L. Lavelle, 118 Cove street, was killed and five other men injured, two critically, tonight when the automobile in which they were riding to this city on the Fall River highway, crashed into a telephone pole about a quarter of a mile east of Lincoln park in North Dartmouth.

The accident occurred when Manuel J. Martin, 147 Clara street, attempted to swing the car back into the center of the road after pulling over to the right to allow another machine to pass. Both of Martin's legs were broken in several places when he was pinned in the wreckage.

LITTLE HOPE FOR SEN. LODGE

Veteran Republican Leader
Having Short Periods of Consciousness

Took Nourishment Today For
First Time Since He Was Stricken Wednesday

CAMBRIDGE, Nov. 7.—A bulletin issued shortly after noon by physicians attending Senator Henry Cabot Lodge said that for the first time since he suffered a stroke at noon Wednesday he was having short periods of consciousness. The senator also took nourishment today for the first time since he was stricken, the bulletin said.

The bulletin, signed by Dr. John H. Cunningham, one of the two physicians caring for Senator Lodge, said: "Senator Lodge's condition remains grave. He is having short periods of consciousness. He has taken a little nourishment for the first time since he suffered the stroke Wednesday (Nov. 6)."

COWS BURNED TO DEATH

Fire Destroys Barn and Contents at Lougee Farm in South Chelmsford

Six cows, a large quantity of hay and an extensive assortment of farm implements were destroyed last night when fire leveled a barn in South Chelmsford owned by C. E. Lougee. The farm on which the barn was located is somewhat removed from the South village and the fire got tremendous headway before discovered. Its origin is not known. It was discovered at about 10.30 o'clock and was a total loss within half an hour. Four horses were saved.

FIND TWO MEN SHOT TO DEATH

Vacant Room in Pittsburgh
Building Was Used as
"Field of Honor"

J. N. Fournaire Accused
Pierre Biagioli of Alleged Attentions to His Wife

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 7.—A vacant room in a Forbes street building here was used as a "field of honor" by two Frenchmen today—and when the smoke of the battle cleared the men lay dead on the floor, each with a bullet in his head.

Pierre Biagioli, of French-Italian extraction, was called upon by J. N. Fournaire, a French baker, to explain attentions alleged to have been paid to Fournaire's wife, Georgette, the mother of two children. Fournaire spent the last two months in jail on a serious charge lodged by a 14-year-old girl. He was released on bail yesterday and, returning home, he is said to have heard whisperings concerning his wife and his friend.

Fournaire summoned Biagioli seeking an explanation, and they met this morning, going to the vacant room in the bakery building to settle the argument. Police reports were that Fournaire, after killing Biagioli shot himself.

ROUND UP IN PROVIDENCE, R. I.

One Man Arrested Last Night and Three Taken in Raid
Early Today

Three Men Found Huddled
Together in One Bed at Rooming House

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 7.—The capture of the four men alleged to have been involved in the holdup of the national bank of Wrentham, Mass., was seriously wounded, was completed here today. Police of this city and Massachusetts detectives routed from bed in a lodging house Manuel Balleco of New Bedford, Celestino Madaleno of Seekonk and James Mingo of New Bedford, alleged accomplices of Alfred Bedard of Pawtucket, who was arrested last night.

The police said the same men were wanted for the attempted robbery of the Turgeon Contracting company's payroll here on Oct. 25, and word came from Boston that Bedard was identified as the man who had shot Mrs. Martha Davis-Mendez at a Boston rooming house two weeks ago.

Because the Providence police were agreed that the Massachusetts authorities had the better case against the men on account of the Wrentham bank holdup, in which no money was taken, it was arranged to turn the prisoners over to them. Bedard was arraigned at Walpole, Mass., today and the case continued for the district court at Franklin, Mass., tomorrow morning when it is expected that all four will appear.

Three Huddled in Bed
A platoon of police from Providence raided seven lodging houses here this morning before they found the three men huddled together in one bed at a rooming house on North Main street. They arrested them at

POMONA GRANGERS HOLD ALL DAY MEETING IN THIS CITY

Overseer Lillian Snow of Tyngsboro Elected Master for Coming Year—Chelmsford Women Provide Excellent Harvest Dinner—Record-Breaking Attendance

Ideal weather conditions reminiscent of August days of mellow warmth and late summer breezes, brought out a record-breaking attendance of Middlesex North Pomona grange members from subordinate lodges, representing nine different county towns, at the annual business meeting that called for election of new officers for the coming year, an entertainment program, dinner and supper, and degree work in Pomona ritual form.

Grangers reached Odd Fellows' hall, Centralville, early in the morning in order to be present at the first session, hear the reading of annual reports and cast their ballots for new officers. The morning session continued until noon and was not adjourned until 1 o'clock this afternoon. Ballotting for officers was slaved up because of a late start in making nominations.

The election resulted in the choice of the following members, who will direct the destinies of Middlesex North Pomona during the next twelve months:

Master, Lillian Snow, Tyngsboro; gate-keeper, Conrad George Barnatt, C.A.B., Dracut; overseer, Evelyn Richardson, Burlington; secretary, Ida Hatcher, Billerica; lecturer, Ida Whiteley, Dracut; treasurer, Norman L. Peavey, Dracut; steward, Fred L. Fletcher, Chelmsford; chaplain, Joseph Prescott, Chelmsford; Ceres, Sister Goldthwait, Dunstable; Pomona, Phillis Eliot; Flora, Grace W. Dawson; assistant steward, Harry L. Peavey; lady assistant steward, Lois Kittredge.

Harry C. Dawson was re-elected a member of Pomona No. 15 executive committee, to serve three years more. Mrs. Dawson decided not to accept re-election to the office of lecturer, which was tendered to her, having served faithfully for the past three years and preferring to be released from further duties at this time. The retiring lecturer accepted the office of plan, however. Miss Esther Putnam of Chelmsford, was the second member of the executive board elected.

Members of Pomona and all subordinate granges were present at today's

HAS MIRACULOUS ESCAPE TWO PROBATE COURT SESSIONS HERE TODAY

Two sessions of the probate court were in operation at the Gopham street court house today. The list was called in the first session before Judge Leggat, who heard routine petitions. Wills filed for probate were those of Charles J. Kier and Charles W. Merrill, both of Lowell.

In the second session, contested divorce cases were heard by Judge Leggat. Decrees nisi were ordered issued in actions brought by Laura Carroll against Grenville F. Carroll and Judge Collins against Dornine Collins.

MAYOR VETOES BEAVER BROOK BRIDGE ORDER

The $125,000 appropriation order voted by the city council for the construction of a bridge over Beaver brook at Conduit street was vetoed by the mayor in a letter to the city council made public yesterday afternoon. The reason given for the veto is that half-a-million dollars rather than the sum appropriated would be necessary to build a safe and continuous highway from Riverside street to Lakeview avenue as well as the bridge itself. The order will go back to the council, presumably at the regular meeting November 18, and can be passed over the mayor's veto by a two-thirds vote.

IF KIDNEYS BOTHER TRY DOSE OF SALTS

Drink Quart of Water if Your Back Hurts or Bladder Troubles

No man or woman can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Too much rich food creates acids which clog the kidney pores so that they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood. Then you get sick. Rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders, often come from sluggish kidneys. The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage, or attended by a sensation of scalding, begin to drink salt water in quantity. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to help neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer cause irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders. Jad Salts is inexpensive and can not injure. It makes a delightful after-dinner drink, which everyone can take now and then to help keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby often preventing serious kidney complications. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.—Adv.

MADE TO ORDER FOR

These goods bought some weeks ago direct from the woolen house of Frieze & Co., Summer Street, Boston, Mass., lower in price than anything I have seen in six years, lower in price than any buyer of woollens can purchase them a month from today. No other Tailor or Clothier in New England today can talk about an all Wool and Worsted Blue Serge suiting under $37.50, and I contend these goods compare very favorably for weight and quality of merchandise selling around $45.00.

For a limited time I will take your order for a 4-piece suit—meaning a Suit and extra pair of pants of same material for a special price of $32.50. A small deposit is all that is necessary now—the balance when you need the garment. Many of these bolts are now displayed in my windows, around fifty yards in each piece. Be sure and see them for this is an opportunity for you to effect a very considerable saving.

FOREST FIRES RAGING IN KENTUCKY

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 7.—Whipped to menacing proportions by near gale winds and coming at a time when prolonged dry weather had reduced brush and grass to a tinder-like condition, forest fires were raging at widely divergent points in Kentucky today.

Volunteer fire fighters at Irvine, Estill county, where two mountains were reported to be ablaze, early today had completed a belt of plowed ground around 700 crude oil tanks and thus apparently had removed imminent danger of the flames reaching 10,000,000 gallons of oil in storage. Seven houses in that section had been destroyed and guards were watching to prevent sparks from these fires starting blazes in Irvine and the adjacent town of Ravenna.

In western Kentucky, McLean county was hard hit; a number of farmhouses and buildings were destroyed, the towns of Island and Sacramento had been threatened and older school-boys had been excused from classes to aid in fighting the flames.

Corduroy Trousers in Style at Princeton

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 7.—With the coming of a quarter of a century, Princeton styles have revealed to corduroy trousers. Almost all the "golden circles" will be seen in their day have been copied in 1924. The co-operative university, after a record-breaking sale of 500 pairs, has actively sold out its stock, but a promise has been made to have a new supply within a few days. Town stores here also have made a harvest in the sale of corduroys. Meanwhile, the best tailors' trousers are passing.

MAGNESIA BEST FOR YOUR INDIGESTION

Warns Against Doping Stomach With Artificial Digestants

Most people who suffer, either occasionally or chronically, from gas, sourness and indigestion, have now discontinued disagreeable diets, patent foods and the use of harmful drugs, stomach tonics, medicines and artificial digestants, and instead, following the advice of a doctor given in these columns, take a teaspoonful or two of tablets of Bisurated Magnesia in a little water after meals with the result that their stomach no longer troubles them, they are able to eat as they please and enjoy much better health. Those who use Bisurated Magnesia never dread the approach of meal time because they know this wonderful anti-acid and food corrective, which can be obtained from any good drug store, will instantly neutralize the stomach acidity, soothe the stomach, prevent food fermentation, and without the slightest pain or discomfort. Try this plan yourself, but be certain to get pure Bisurated Magnesia especially prepared for stomach use.—Adv.

SHRINER BAND DELIGHTS BIG AUDIENCE HERE

The justly famous Aleppo drum corps of Boston, in reality one of the largest and most capable band organizations in the country, entertained a crowd estimated at four thousand in the Memorial Auditorium last night, presenting first a concert program of 15 numbers followed by orchestra music for dancing until the hour of midnight. In the band were about 130 crack musicians, including several Lowell Shriners, working in perfect harmony under the direction of Louis Harlow, leader, and Lewis A. Harlow, concert master, a father and son combination exceptionally hard to beat.

In more respects than one, the Aleppo organization is colorful. Its clothing equipment of bright red with white leggings and baggy trousers and red cap and fez make a connected picture of unusual and unique appearance, and on the march the band is an animated crimson splash.

The Auditorium concert was preceded by a parade through downtown streets, with thousands of persons thronging the sidewalks to look and listen. Through long practice the band has developed a perfect marching cadence and out of doors its music is more inspiring even than on the concert stage.

The concert program continued for an hour and a half and included stirring march tunes of Sousa, Jewell, Meacham, Fillmore and Losey. A Levy number, "Spread Yo' Stuff," was the last word in 1924 jazz composition and there also were fuleter numbers and the "Bohemian Girl" overture and Bland's arrangement of "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia."

No encores were given, but the applause more than warranted several after each number. Lack of time was the reason for adhering only to the printed program.

Lewis A. Harlow's Harmony Hounds played for dancing and although the dance surface was packed tighter than the contents of a sardine can, everyone had a good time.

The band was presented to Lowell by the Lowell Temple club, with arrangements under the direction of the following officers: H. Stanley Cryer, president; Woodbury K. Howe, vice president; Will H. Howe, treasurer; Grover C. Morris, secretary; C. Luther Cashin, Walter Jewett, John H. Johnson, Frank A. Wilson and A. V. Isherwood, directors.

PLANS SHORT SESSION OF CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Assured of a working majority for the republican party in the house and possibly in the senate as well as his own election, President Coolidge went forward today with plans for the short session of congress.

After the regular semi-weekly meeting of the cabinet, the first session, Mr. Coolidge had an engagement with Director Lord of the budget to go over the estimates for next year's appropriations for government departments.

Congratulatory messages continued to pour into the White House today from all sections of the world, and several callers bearing similar messages also were on the president's calling list.

FACE BROKE OUT WITH PIMPLES

Itched and Burned Terribly. Troubled 4 Years. Healed by Cuticura.

"I worked in a plant where they used a lot of oil and my face broke out with pimples. The pimples festered and scaled over and itched and burned something terrible. I lost sleep at night on account of the irritation, and the trouble lasted about four years.

"I tried other remedies without success. I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and purchased some and after using them for several months I was completely healed." (Signed) Edward Leight, 739 S. Park St., Elizabeth, N. J., May 22, 1924.

For every purpose of the toilet and bath, Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Talcum are excellent.

SERIES OF ROBBERIES

Five of Sixteen Men Involved in New York Breaks Are Captured

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Five of 16 men involved in a series of robberies and burglaries in Manhattan today were captured by the police. The loot taken was valued at several thousand dollars.

One of the burglaries was in the Saks & Co. store on Fifth avenue. The burglars crashed show windows on the avenue to remove gowns and fur coats. They escaped before police discovered the burglary.

The comet is preceded by its tail when it is moving away from the sun.

GIRL DRINKS POISON

Friend of Walter Muir, Executed Murder Attempts Suicide

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Miss Catherine Morgan of New York, carrying intimate mementoes of Walter Muir, the 21-year-old New York youth who was hanged in Quebec for the shooting of Henri Lavolette, drank five ounces of poison yesterday, walked calmly to a hospital, told a nurse what she had done, and collapsed. She probably will recover, physicians said.

In addition to photographs of Muir, affectionately inscribed, and letters from Muir and from her to the young man's mother, articles found in the handbag she took with her to the hospital included a black-bordered ticket to a subscription "dance of death" at which the girl and other friends sought to raise funds for a monument to his memory in New York. She also wore a wedding ring.

The Muir case aroused considerable interest in the United States. It was brought out that, in a quarrel in a bar room at Valley Field, Que., Muir had fired two shots at the floor, one of which glanced upward and killed Lavolette. The Duchess of Richelieu, formerly Miss Eleanor Wise of Baltimore, and others prominent in the United States and Canada, assisted in efforts that won Muir a reprieve, but the death sentence was sustained upon appeal and he was executed.

APPEAL TO U. S. TO MODIFY ARTICLE

PARIS, Nov. 7.—The provision in the American tariff law for examination of exporters' books by an American treasury agent is regarded by the French national committee of the international chamber of commerce as encroaching upon the sovereignty of the various countries doing business with the United States. Consequently, it has decided to join in a request from the Danish, Swedish and Norwegian committees asking the American committee to take up the matter with the United States government and advise modification of the article in question.

FASHION DICTATES SIMPLE STYLES

Discriminating women who are familiar with the foremost style authorities, will recognize, upon inspecting these coats, that money can buy no better. The season's newest style trends are the unusual sleeve treatments of melon cuffs, or edgings of fur that are tucked in between. The smart collars are either rolled or stand, carrying out the simple idea. The correct tubular body line is artfully draped into these coats, so that the garment has a graceful line that is neither tight nor loose.

MILLS' REPORTS DON'T AGREE

Amoskeag Claiming Loss

Had Huge Tax Return—Stockholders Aroused

Labor Leader Says Move Led to Attempt to Cut Wages 20 Per Cent

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Labor, political and trade motives were variously assigned yesterday in explanation of the striking contrast between the profits reported to the government and the losses reported to stockholders by the Amoskeag Manufacturing company, one of the largest textile concerns in the world. The two sets of figures attracted considerable comment from trade and labor representatives, who professed to see no way of making the two statements agree.

To the government, the Amoskeag company paid a tax for 1923 which would indicate profits of approximately $5,000,000. But for the year ending May 31, Treasurer P. C. Dumaine submitted a statement showing a loss of $2,851,181 and he said that at no time during the year past had it been possible to sell goods on a basis yielding the slightest profit.

Storm Over Discrepancy

Publication of the income tax return of the company immediately drew a demand for an explanation. Frank P. Carpenter, a member of the board of trustees and one of the largest stockholders, criticized the notion of Treasurer Dumaine for "submitting one report to the stockholders and another diametrically opposite, to the federal government."

Last year's profit was explained by one company official as due to the higher inventory value of wool owned by the concern.

Labor officials saw a direct connection between the efforts of the company to obtain a substantial cut and the statement of losses. The company desired a 20 per cent reduction, but employees would submit to a cut of only 10 per cent, which at first was ignored, but more recently has been accepted.

An official of the United Textile Workers said yesterday the company, in spite of its declaration of an operating loss, is not warranted in slashing wages. He explained that cotton is selling at 23 cents compared with almost 35 cents a year ago, and that the number of looms to each operative has been almost doubled.

Upholds Union View

"The income tax return of the company," he said, "only confirms what we have been saying, namely that the concern is trying to get even larger profits by grinding down the wages of the employees. Even a 20 per cent cut would mean less than a cent a yard on cloth, which the company sells and that means nothing to the public."

In the Worth street district, which is the textile selling center, it was brought out yesterday that the company's financial statements are "not likely to inspire much confidence." Several trade representatives expressed the opinion that no reasonable explanation occurred to them, though labor and political motives were mentioned.

Tariff Argument

"Of course the loss shown by the company," said one mill agent, "and the passing of the dividend would argue against the tariff being too high and would also indicate the need for lower wages."

"One of the big concerns showed a six months' loss of $1,250,000, and it is barely possible that in five months between its profit for 1923 and May 31 of this year, the company lost almost $3,000,000. But it is just as unlikely."

"The real contrast is between the treasurer's statement of no profit in the past year, and the profit reported to the government. Only five months were allowed in 1923 for the profit of $5,000,000."

BAR ASSOCIATION ELECTS OFFICERS

The annual meeting of the Lowell Bar association was held yesterday afternoon at the Villa Lorraine in Popperell. The following officers were re-elected:

Daniel J. Donahue, president; James E. O'Donnell, vice president; Joseph P. Donahue, secretary; Henry V. Charbonneau, treasurer.

A committee was appointed to wait upon Judge Frederic H. Greenhalge of the superior court to request him to set a date for the pronouncement of a decision upon the late Francis W. Quinn, an old-time member of the association who died recently.

BUSY WEEK FOR DRACUT FIREMEN

Dracut firemen have been kept busy this week, fighting brush fires in several different sections of the town. Five alarms have been answered and dangerous fires in heavily wooded districts of the town, fought successfully.

Two fires occurred yesterday in Wheeler's meadow, so-called. Another spreading blaze in brushlands, endangered the home of E. L. Bunting near the Navy Yard district. There was a small fire extinguished in the rear of Lowell Isolation hospital just before midnight.

FIRST GENERAL SNOW OF SEASON IN NORTHWEST

ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 7.—The first general snow of the season was reported over the northwest today. Temperatures below freezing accompanied the flakes in Minnesota, North Dakota and South Dakota. The snow was expected to melt rapidly, however, as the weather bureau forecast rising temperatures for the district into today.

LIQUOR CASES BEFORE U. S. COMMISSIONER

A long list of cases was before U. S. Commissioner R. B. Walsh today, sitting in the criminal court room at the Gorham street court house, but no hearings were held.

Joseph Silva of Lowell, arrested at 1 a. m. today as a suspicious person by Sgt. Moloney at Lawrence and Swift streets, waived examination on charges of possession and transportation and was held in $500 for the federal district court. Silva was turned over to Federal Agent Walter H. Sullivan when it was found that "moonshine" was being carried in a bag in his possession.

James F. Sullivan and Ernest H. Stenard, both of Lawrence, charged with sale and possession, had their cases taken under advisement by the commissioner when the defense raised the question of a defective search warrant.

Henry Lennay, George Foster and Henry Poltras, all of Lawrence, charged with illegal manufacture, possession and sale of beer, were each held in $500 bonds for hearing on Nov. 13.

Joseph Corrado, Carmelo Scuito and

Tony Massimo, also of Lawrence, and charged with illegal possession and transportation, were held in $500 each for hearing on the same date.

Angelo Polli, Lawrence, charged with illegal possession, was continued under state bail for hearing on Nov. 23.

J. P. Fortier and Frank Yelle, Lawrence, charged with manufacture, possession and sale, were held for hearing on Nov. 23.

NOT TO CALL EXTRA SESSION OF CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Republican senate leaders who conferred today with President Coolidge reached the conclusion that it was highly improbable that the president would call the new congress into an extra session after next March 4.

The president turned his attention today to the legislative program and discussed plans for the coming short session of congress, with Senators Curtis of Kansas republican whip, and Mooses, republican, of New Hampshire. Both were of the opinion that the nation did not want an extra session and only the necessity of emergency legislation would lead the president to call the new congress before its regular meeting time, a year from this December.

While Mr. Coolidge had indicated he would press for tax reduction, many congressional leaders have expressed the opinion that it would be difficult to get through tax legislation in the short session with a congress that has just fought out its differences on tax reforms.

Senator Mooses expressed the belief that farm legislation also could wait until the facts on agricultural conditions could be definitely determined by the commission proposed by President Coolidge. It is unlikely, Senator Mooses said, that this investigation can be supported and reports drawn until late next year.

ROBBERS IN CONTROL OF LIQUOR WAREHOUSE

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—Four robbers, believed to have been in search of liquor, today remained in possession of the Waukegan and McLaughlin warehouse and kept two watchmen prisoners for hours, assaulted and probably fatally injured a passerby and fled with a large quantity of merchandise. The bandits left behind about $10,000 worth of radio apparatus which they had packed in boxes.

SIERRA LEONE WINS AUTUMN CUP

LIVERPOOL, Nov. 7. (By the Associated Press).—Lord Derby's Sierra Leone, by Great Sport, out of Canyon, today won the autumn cup of 2000 pounds. R. Walker's Regio was second and the Duke of Westminster's Twelve Pointer was third. Thirteen horses ran.

Sierra Leone won by one and one-half lengths and a half length separated Regio and Twelve Pointer. The betting was 5 to 1 against Sierra Leone, 2 to 1 against Regio and 100 to 30 against Twelve Pointer.

Round Up in Providence

pistol point, under orders to fire if any overt move was made.

With the arrest of Bedford yesterday, the police gained a clue to the location of the others as a result of Bedford's belief that they had stolen his sedan car and were on the way to Jacksonville, Fla., with it. The trail of the car was followed and it was found in a junk yard here.

Police said that Bedford had admitted he was the driver of the automobile in which the bandits went to the bank at Wrentham last Saturday, but that he did not know who his passengers were, and knew nothing of the holdup until one of them came rushing out of the bank with a revolver in his hand. It is understood that the authorities subsequently obtained more complete details from Bedford.

As a result, plans to have him kept in jail at Foxboro, which is in an out of the way place, were changed and he was taken to the Dedham jail, which is well guarded.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton
ON TOP OF THE MOUNTAIN

WHEN THEY LOOKED OUT OF THE WINDOW THE CLOUD WAS DISAPPEARING IN THIS DISTANCE

"Now then," said Daddy Gander when he and the Twins were safely seated on the magic dust-pan, "take us to the House-That-Jack-Built."

A Piece at a Time

THE home which is your ideal, as well as ours, may be furnished gradually, with single pieces of furniture of permanent worth in design and construction. Here one may select at his or her convenience and profit by our expert assistance.

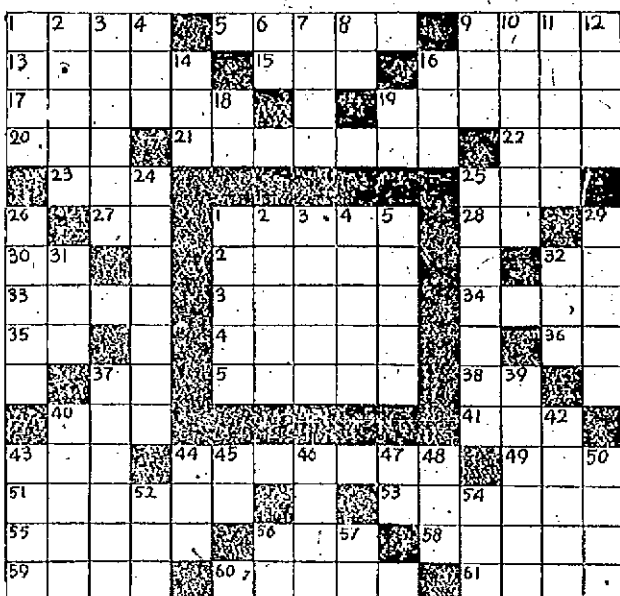

Adams & Co.
43-49 Market St.

where the house had settled, after floating up to the sky.
"But to their surprise the dough no longer stuck out of the windows. Instead, delicious smells greeted their noses. Smells of bread baking."
"What can it be?" cried Daddy Gander. "It's the very queerest thing I ever heard of in all my life."
"The best way to find out," said Nick wisely, "is to go inside."
"Certainly!" said Daddy Gander. "What a wise child you are!"
So they all stepped off the magic dust-pan onto the cute little front porch and tapped three times on the door.
And who should open it but the cook himself. The cook of the King of Yum Yum Land.
But he sniffed and sniffed and sniffed—the tears running down his cheeks like Tom Tom after he had stolen the pig and got a beating.
"Oh, goodness!" he said with another sniff. "Come in."
"Have you been skinning onions?" asked Nancy.
"No-o-o! It isn't onions," said the cook. "It's sorrow. I'm crying because I'm sad."
"But because I baked up some dough I found here in the house all ready for the oven, and it's so delicious, and I've nobody to serve it to! I can't go back to the palace because the king's gone and the peddler who took his place ordered my head chopped off!"
"Why, yes you can," said Nancy. "The king got his throne back. He put on his crown and his robe and went back to the castle just a little while ago."
"Oh, then, if you'll please excuse me, I'll be taking my baking and leave at once," said the cook. "And I don't even want the magic fork. All I want is my job back and someone who appreciates good food."
"But how are you going to get there?" asked Nick.
"Well," said the cook thoughtfully looking down at the earth, "I could jump."
"No such thing!" said Daddy Gander. "Put your baking into a basket and I'll take you down myself. I know Mrs. John won't care about you using up her bread dough. She will only be too glad to get her house back."
So the cook did as the old gentleman said and put the baking into a basket and they got onto the magic dust-pan and started toward the earth where they could see the king's castle far below.
Nancy and Nick started to look over the House-That-Jack-Built. They poked into all the corners and all the cupboards and opened and shut all the drawers and had a grand time waiting for Daddy Gander to come back to take them and Jack's house back to Mother Goose Land.
When they looked out of the window the cloud was disappearing in the distance, having left the House-That-Jack-Built sitting on top of the highest mountain in the world. Yum Yum Land had disappeared altogether.

CROSSWORD PUZZLES

A word square forms the center block of this crossword puzzle. That is, the words are the same horizontal and vertical.

- HORIZONTAL
- A box.
 - An extreme and sudden fright.
 - Enthusiasm, ardor. (A word which originated from France, but has become naturalized.)
 - The assembly place of an ancient Greek city. (We went to the dictionary for that one.)
 - A drunkard.
 - With the mouth open in astonishment.
 - The residence of the king.
 - Miner's repatriation or amends.
 - A mineral springs resort.
 - To flow out.
 - Making crosswords puzzles is one.
 - French gold coin.
 - Danielle for swine.
 - The crossword puzzle's faithful friend; half of an em.
 - Another handy word: third person singular masculine pronoun.
 - In a like manner.
 - A negative answer.
 - A scale of prices.
 - A circle, or part of one.
 - A preposition indicating place.
 - Exist.
 - A conjunction indicating an alternative.
 - One of the three articles in the English language.
 - An act in playing bridge which takes place immediately after the deal.
 - A simple piece of machinery.
 - A snake-like fish.
 - Containers for water only now.
 - Whence the drinks flow.
 - Four ale or vinegar made therefrom. (A few more like 44, 45, and this puzzle will get rained.)
 - With evil intent.
 - What we moderns would have called a vamp.
 - To lessen the brilliancy of a light.
 - A bar of metal used to lift a weight.
 - What crossword puzzles do to your brain.
 - Lassard.
 - An adventure in a story.

- VERTICAL
- Head dresses.
 - With mouth open.
 - Comfort.
 - A period of time.

FRATERNAL NEWS

A business meeting of James A. Garfield W.N.O. was held last evening at 7:30 o'clock after an afternoon of whist and a supper at 6 o'clock. Pres. Mrs. Anna Holman was in the chair and introduced Inspector Mrs. J. Louise Shapleigh of Swampscott, who is department senior aid. Following inspection, Mrs. Shapleigh stated that the corps was in fine shape and that the meeting was very satisfactory. It was voted to present two flags to the Powell street school in the near future and two pennants to Post 120, G.A.R., at the next meeting.

PLANNING TO KEEP DEPOT COMFORTABLE

No longer will patrons of the Boston & Maine and New York, New Haven & Hartford railroads shiver in zero weather during the winter months, while waiting for trains in the waiting room of the Middlesex street station.

Today, under the direction of John A. Connors, for many years expert foreman plumber of the B. & M. Lowell district, expert mechanics are busily erecting three extra sections of hot water boiler construction, needed to produce enough more heat to keep the main Middlesex street railroad waiting rooms "as warm as the front parlor" and a little bit warmer than that, if necessary when the mercury goes below the zero mark this winter.

Briefly, the battery of nine boiler sections, used in past years in the hot water heating of the railroad station, has not been moving adequate on worked under highest pressure, the station radiators—adequately installed in approved locations for best service—did not produce heat enough to save the day. What little heat was produced from some of the radiators was quickly assimilated with the cold air in the upper part of the main waiting room, and as heat rises rapidly from low points, the radiating of the radiator heat into the high ceiling ceilings above, left the temperature of the passengers' waiting quarters in the lower "air zone" often rigid and disagreeable.

Foreman Connors said today that the new arrangement of the hot water heating plant will give more heat than can be possibly used, at all hours of the day or night. It can be called upon and will respond, even with the mercury dancing way below zero.

LOWELL DISTRICT COURT

Youth Found Guilty of Breaking, Entering and Larceny—Other Cases

A sentence to the Massachusetts reformatory, suspended for two years, was imposed on Daniel F. Critchett, 18, in district court this morning when he was found guilty of breaking and entering the home of Sarah Johns in Pollard avenue, and stealing a watch valued at $35 and a ring valued at $10.

Charles Rocheford, a Greta woman, was fined $10 for drunkenness. He was arrested by Motorcycle Officer Bernard Judge on the Princeton boulevard yesterday afternoon while driving a horse in the midst of heavy traffic.

Joseph Olligny was found guilty of drunkenness and was fined $15.

Elizabeth Pinkerton, charged with assault and battery on Mary E. Manning and Anna E. Sexton, was committed until next Friday.

Frank D. Green was granted a continuance of one week.

James Sutcliffe, drunkenness, was continued until tomorrow.

Guy A. McKenzie, non-support of a minor child, was continued one week.

William Zimbo failed to appear in answer to charges of drunkenness, operating a motor vehicle while drunk, and driving without a license. He was defaulted.

LARCENY OF VESTMENTS
FROM CHURCH CHARGED

BURLINGTON, Vt., Nov. 7.—Gordon Wells and William B. McGreevey were arraigned in Chittenden county this morning and pleaded not guilty to the charge of grand larceny. They are charged with stealing vestments and other personal property from the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception on Aug. 8. Attorney General Frank C. Archibald questioned the takers as the arraignment of the jury began.

W. C. Myers of Appleton, Vt., Kin Kinn, organizer, pleaded guilty yesterday to grand larceny in connection with the same offense.

EVERETT MILLS CLOSED

LAWRENCE, Mass., Nov. 7.—The Everett mills were closed down Wednesday night to remain closed until Nov. 17 because of business conditions.

HAVE YOU ENTERED FOR TITLE CONTEST?

A great amount of interest is being taken in "The Sun's Contest" to select an appropriate title for "The Story Without a Name," one of the feature pictures which is now running at the Merrimack Square theatre. Already many titles have been received by the contest editor. The prize is to be $10 in gold which "The Sun" will present to the person sending in the most appropriate title.

The conditions of the contest are simple. Anyone not employed by "The Sun" or the Merrimack Square theatre is eligible to send in his or her title. See the picture and send in what you think is an appropriate title, with your name and address. The title will be selected by a committee composed of the contest editor, the manager of the Merrimack Square theatre and a member of the high school faculty. The contest closes at 12 o'clock noon on Sunday, November 9. All titles must be in by that time and only envelopes bearing a postmark before that time will be considered in the contest.

The winner will be announced in Monday's Sun.

TO EXPLORE RUINS OF ANCIENT MAYAN CITY

LONDON, Nov. 7.—Dr. Gann, archaeologist and expert on the Mayan civilization of Honduras and Yucatan, is on his way to Jamaica, whence he will go to British Honduras to explore the ruins of the ancient Mayan city which he and a number of companions discovered early this year. Dr. Gann hopes to find inscribed on jade or painted pottery a date prior to 52 B.C., the earliest Mayan date at present known.

EXPLOSION IN FIREWORKS PLANT

HANOVER, Mass., Nov. 7.—A mixing but at the National Fireworks Company plant here exploded Thursday afternoon, injuring one workman, Edgar Knight. He was mixing a preparation to be used in case fireworks, when, without warning, it exploded and he was blown bodily out of a door and the building was badly damaged. Knight escaped with severe burns.

GRANDSON OF FORMER
KING OF SIAM ARRIVES

SEATTLE, Nov. 7.—Prince Sivavongse Kunjara, great grandson of a former king of Siam and son of Phya Sri Kridakara, lord chamberlain of Siam, arrived yesterday aboard the steamship President Jefferson from the Far East with Dr. Francis H. Sayre, advisor in foreign affairs for the Siam government and a son-in-law of the late Woodrow Wilson.

Prince Kunjara has made a study of mechanics and engineering and is enroute to enter Harvard university. Dr. Sayre is bound for European capitals on a diplomatic mission for the king of Siam, who, according to Dr. Sayre, is seeking to end traffic in opium through his country. Dr. Sayre said he aims to effect new treaties with Great Britain, France, Italy and some other countries.

HELD IN CONNECTION WITH SHOOTING

PAWTUCKET, R. I., Nov. 7.—Albert W. Bedard, arrested here yesterday in connection with the shooting of James B. Carpenter, cashier of the Wrentham National bank, last Saturday, was turned over to the Wrentham police last night and is to be arraigned in the court at Walpole today.

COLONIAL HALL DANCING PARTIES

The "Danceous," a club of local boys who have managed several very successful Saturday evening dancing parties in Colonial hall, have secured for tomorrow night's affair the Howard College Inn. Players of the "Couriers," a radio broadcasting orchestra, will be the attractive feature of the dance.

The regular Leo Daly's orchestra has been released by the "Danceous" for tomorrow night to play for the opening of a new ballroom in Somerville, but will be back in Colonial hall every Saturday thereafter. The popularity of "Danceous" parties can be better attested by those who have attended them and all now patrons can be assured of a good time every Saturday evening in Colonial hall.

SAYS REVOLUTION HAS SUCCEEDED IN RUSSIA

MOSCOW, Nov. 7.—(By the Associated Press) "I believe the Russian people and their posterity will always acknowledge that the red terror was the best page in Soviet history," M. Lunacharsky, commissioner of education, declared last night in a striking speech before a plenary sitting of the Moscow Soviet.

"If the revolution has not met with its expected response in the western countries, it has succeeded in Russia and is a living sample to all the world workers of what can be accomplished by unity of the proletariat. The Bolsheviks do not lack humanitarian feelings but the method they employed in the revolution, such as the red terror, was absolutely necessary."

"While the working classes of the western countries have not yet responded to the October revolution, it has made great strides in the eastern countries. I am sure that the revolution in the western countries will come."

MAYOR DONOVAN

in Heart-to-Heart Talks With the Average Citizen

Mayor Donovan:—Reduction in a tax rate is not achieved by a simple wave of the hand. Back of your reduced tax rate of $1.40 per thousand has been a determined stand to eliminate waste and needless expense; to make a dollar of city money go pretty near its full value; to demand co-operation from administrative heads, and to shape a financial policy that not alone has reduced the tax rate, but also has kept current expenditures within current revenue. Oh, no, it has not been an easy job. It has given keen disappointment here and there. My opponents will naturally try to distort and discredit it.—But the fact remains it is the first time in many years that you have experienced the thrill and sensation of a reduced tax rate. Yes and an honest one too.—I now ask you to recompense me BY YOUR VOTE FOR THE DOLLARS I HAVE KEPT IN YOUR POCKETS.

Mr. Citizen:—I am inclined to vote for you because of your consistent financial policy of the past two years, which has saved me money in taxes. I notice, Mr. Mayor, that one of your opponents is stressing the question of liquor law enforcement. What have you to say about it?

Mayor Donovan:—Just this: That I have nothing to do about it. The question of liquor law enforcement is entirely up to the Superintendent of Police and Federal Officers. You have confidence in the Superintendent, and so have I, and I guess he will say, should you ask him, that the Mayor's office has in no way interfered or hampered him in his work. Law enforcement is more effective here than it is in the average American city today. We are spending $10,000 a year in salaries and wages to enforce the liquor laws. With expressed confidence in the Superintendent of Police and his ability and integrity to impartially enforce the law, you cannot be influenced by the rantings of pre-election converts to liquor law enforcement.

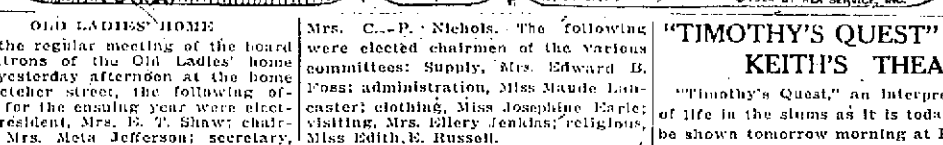

Mr. Citizen:—I guess your statement pretty well disposes of that question as a real issue. Yes, I have confidence in the Superintendent of Police, and with him in charge I am satisfied that things are going along about as well as possible.

Miss Citizen:—Tell me, Mr. Mayor, why you were unable to grant an increase in wages to the firemen and policemen this year? Some way it will hurt your chances for re-election.

"TIMOTHY'S QUEST" AT KEITH'S THEATRE "Timothy's Quest," an interpretation of life in the slums as it is today, will be shown tomorrow morning at Keith's theatre at 2.15 o'clock under the auspices of the Lowell College club, the proceeds to be donated to the scholarship fund.

Children are especially urged to attend this performance as the picture is one which will appeal to every child. It deals with a little boy and girl who upon being told they must go to the children's home decide to find the ideal home and mother. It is in Hollis, Me., that they find an ideal home with Mrs. Wiggins, a kind, sympathetic mother. Timothy is played by Joseph Dapew, a ten-year-old Hollis boy, while Helen Rowland, three-year-old miss, interprets "Lady Gay."

Two other pictures, "Episodes from the Life of Abraham Lincoln" and an "Our Gang" comedy will also be shown. The Lincoln plays will show Abraham Lincoln as president and his son, Tad. The committees in charge are under the general direction of Mrs. L. E. Seckins and are as follows: Tickets, Mrs. William Liddell, Mrs. Chester Runnels; publicity, Mrs. Chester Runnels; refreshments, Mrs. Allan Dumas; candy, Misses Ruth Sawyer and Genevieve Lawrence. The pupils of the high school will usher.

LA FOLLETTE MENACE LAID

We have a bipartisan government in this country and when an attempt is made to form a third party by such a movement as that conducted by La Follette, it results only in weakening one of the two existing parties. The Bull Moose movement in 1912 was primarily an appeal to the republicans against what was represented to be unfair methods, and it resulted in a great national defeat of the republican party. That was merely a rupture within the party itself.

In the election just held, the La Follette candidacy, although originally aimed at the republican party, did that party little if any harm, but split the vote of the democratic party to such an extent that success was impossible. What other result could be expected when the republicans stood loyally by their party and the democrats wasted their votes on La Follette? The result is seen in the great republican majorities and the crushing defeat of the democratic party. La Follette did not attain strength enough to win the electoral vote of any state except his own, but he did draw sufficient votes from the democratic party to prevent it from winning in several states in which republican victories were scored. La Follette, therefore, proved the worst enemy of the democratic party which he classed as equally devoted to the moneyed interests of the country and the maintenance of special privilege with the republican party. He is an unscrupulous huncher.

In congress he will seek the aid of democrats in carrying on an agitation against the republican majority; but it would seem that it is questionable policy for the democrats in congress to make an alliance with him for any purpose. Better go down in honorable defeat than win by calling in aid that would place the party under obligation to a demagogue who preaches the doctrine of the extreme radicals without, however, entering their camps. He is sailing under false colors in his political maneuvering; but he is a menace to honest, stable and progressive government. His occasional sallies in behalf of labor are resorted to chiefly for the purpose of winning the confidence of the unwary. In that he has been fairly successful, but in helping to defeat the democratic party, he has reduced the power of the party that on all occasions has been the chief political agency for securing labor reforms. It is safe to say that many democrats who wanted first of all safe and stable government, turned to the republican party as the medium most likely to defeat the La Follette menace. Thus the democratic party lost at both ends, and Mr. Davis received what remained. It may be said in all fairness that his defeat was not due to any shortcomings on his part as during his campaign, he proved himself a man of high culture, a campaigner of great ability and a statesman able to deal in a masterly manner with all the political issues of the hour. La Follette is thus largely responsible for the democratic defeat of Tuesday and in pulling down the democratic party, he himself met his political Waterloo.

WALSH VS. GILLET

Throughout the state there is very general regret, particularly in the democratic party, over the defeat of Senator Walsh. His record of service in the senate has demonstrated his efficiency as a public servant and his unswerving devotion to the interests of the people. He was not a hidebound man, inasmuch as he supported measures fostered by republicans when he believed them to be right and for the best interest of the people.

The Courier-Gillett wonders why such a large number of people voted for Senator Walsh in view of the fact that his opponent, Mr. Gillett, has been the life-long friend and trusted adviser of the president. With all due respect to our neighbor, the fact of Mr. Gillett's friendship for the president is not a qualification for a United States senator. If it were, the president's old cobbler friend, Mr. Lucey, would have been equally eligible as a candidate. But the C.C. writer has this criticism to make of Senator Walsh:

"If Mr. Walsh had been a stronger or greater man, he would have understood it better—but he has, as a matter of fact, been about as negligible a member of the upper house of congress as one could find, leaving a discernible mark on its deliberations in the six years of his presence as a member."

It may have escaped the attention of our contemporary that Senator Walsh's record shows greater activity of the right sort than that of any other New England senator. He tried to have the republicans avert the coal famine of 1922, by predicting just what happened, but his appeals were unheeded by the republican senate and as a result the people suffered. Again he moved for an investigation of the depression affecting the textile industry in New England this year, but the move never passed beyond the republican committee to which it was referred. He was sternly opposed to the republican policy of paying political debts by excessive tariff inposts which shelter monopolies in the hands of the people. Such criticism, of course, is not agreeable to the G.O.P. leaders on their partisan organs.

Senator-elect Gillett has been in congress 22 years and has failed to have his name associated with a single measure of popular legislation. He has been the rubber stamp of republican leaders and it was to be expected that he would be a candidate against Senator Walsh. Senator Walsh is above such mediaeval service. It was the Coughlin sweep that gave Gillett his victory. He could never secure election as senator over Walsh on his own merits.

In retiring to private life or to the practice of his law business, Senator Walsh will carry with him the good wishes of a majority of the people of Massachusetts in spite of the unjust criticism of republican papers that can never see any virtue in a democrat.

CROWDING AT ELECTIONS

The slow process of voting and the usually slow method of counting in Tuesday's election, must have impressed every voter with the necessity of better facilities for conducting state and national elections in this city.

Some of our polling precincts are already so unwieldy that relief of some kind is imperative. The crowd of voters that besieged the polling booths after 5 o'clock on Tuesday, presented a state of affairs that should be remedied before another state election. It was with the utmost difficulty that hundreds of people who called at the polling places soon after 5 o'clock got an opportunity to vote, and we surmise that many who called during the last hour of voting, went away distressed rather than fight for the opportunity to get a place in the polling booth.

RAILROAD CROSSINGS

Almost daily, the newspapers report fatal accidents at railroad crossings. The latest occurred at Newport News, Va., when a passenger train struck a big bus, killing eight and injuring twelve persons.

There should be a law throughout the United States providing that every vehicle engaged as a common carrier shall be obliged to stop before attempting to pass over a railroad crossing at grade. Warnings without number have been issued, but the accidents are just as numerous as if no word of warning were ever uttered and if no such accident ever occurred. What can be done to prevent such fatalities? Nothing except to have grade crossings properly guarded by danger signals, make it compulsory for every driver to stop, look and listen before crossing. People will persist in taking desperate chances at such crossings and the result is seen in list of fatal accidents.

FORTUNE

Publication of income tax returns brought to light many an industrial romance. The second largest income taxpayer in Maine, a man and wife, were in very moderate circumstances a few years ago. They became rich manufacturing paper plate.

The easiest road to wealth is to make or distribute a necessity. Select something people must have. Devote your time and energies to it. A "good living" is almost certain. Riches are probable, if you can win out against competition. The hardest road to fortune is dealing in a commodity people do not consider a necessity, and which requires long and patient educational campaigns to induce them to buy.

RETURNS BY RADIO

For the first time in history the election returns were received extensively in private residences by radio. This new agency is rapidly developing in usefulness and practicability. The only objection is that however fast the broadcaster speaks, he cannot be communicated with by the receiver. The listener cannot say "Hold on there, till I make a note of those figures" and expect that his request will be obeyed.

With the big line running hourly to Boston during the winter, unless they change their schedules, the dipping companies will have to adopt some effective plan of keeping the streets clear of snow. If the way is passable for the large motor buses, it will be equally so for the smaller motor vehicles, and hence, we may see more of these on the state highways during the winter than formerly.

After reading President Coolidge's Thanksgiving proclamation one would almost feel that he should be a religious minister instead of president. Yet it is not a whit more patriotic or devotional than the proclamation of Gov. Cox for the proper observance of Armistice day.

The victory of Lawyer Cornelius J. O'Neill in the 15th representative district was one of the greatest surprises in the local election. His campaign was well conducted. The voters will not regret electing Mr. O'Neill, who is a rising young lawyer.

Strabo V. Clineart claimed election over Alonzo B. Cook, state auditor and the best noir of the republican administration. Cook, however, seems to have crept in despite the opposition to his election.

SEEN AND HEARD

The Chinese used umbrellas 3000 years ago, and of which probably influenced to friends.

The mud slung during a campaign gathered together to make several mountains out of mole hills.

Experiments by scientists have proved that the only way to get a man, and men who borrow money have not.

A Thought

Anger turns the mind out of doors and holds the entrance—Dutarch.

Spoke from Experience

"My dear," said Mrs. Henpeck, "I'm sure our boy is thinking seriously of matrimony. Well, I hope so, but I wouldn't let him marry a girl who wouldn't wait any boy of mine to be so foolish as to regard it as a joke."

Dear Little Dear

James Haggler, game protector in the region of Simsbury, Conn., found a little deer near his house. The little animal was in a dying condition, but Haggler hopes to save it. It is not much larger than a jack rabbit and he said to his full grown, its size is thought to be the result of inbreeding.

Some Men Wouldn't Mind

The harassed-looking man was rushing hither and thither round the store in a state of wild excitement. First he went up to the second floor, and then down to the basement. Finally he had arrived on the ground floor, when he was attracted by a notice pinned to the wall. "Are you looking for something in men's clothing?" inquired the individual politely. "No, no," roared the excited one; "that men's clothing—women's clothing! I've lost my wife!"

Book All He Had

A prominent attorney, in his early days, often had many poor clients. On one occasion the defendant was so poor that the young lawyer offered to handle his case for nothing. He won the case and the grateful client sent him $5. In order not to hurt the man's feelings the attorney accepted the fee, but a fellow-lawyer reproached him for being so. "Don't you know," said the fellow-lawyer, "that it is unprofessional to take less than $25?" "Well," said the young counsel, seriously, "I took all the poor boob had. You don't consider that unprofessional, do you?"

Believed His Worry

Little Tommy, usually so full of fun and good spirits, was a depressed one day at bedtime that his father noticed it and asked him what his trouble was. Tommy answered that he had failed to perform the feat of, at least one of which he was bound, as a Boy Scout, to do per hour, to turn a tin of two tin cans tomorrow to make up for it. But Tommy did not quite see the thing in that light and local was his first effort then over. In the morning, however, he had quite recovered. "Get over your troubles, chief?" inquired his father, when he came downstairs. "Yes," replied Tommy, "I lay tossing and turning, till I got up, and then I couldn't find it and I was so nervous I came downstairs and gave the canary to the cat."

Just Phoning Himself

"McGillivray registered here?" he asked as he leaned against the desk of a downtown hotel last week. "We have a McGillivray here," the clerk answered with a slight grin. "Did he come in this morning?" "Yes," answered the clerk. "Did he leave a bag?" "Yes," "Did he get a room?" "Yes, he got a room," said the clerk as he reached for the key rack. "Thank you," explained the visitor. "I'm him. No, I don't want to go up yet, I've wanted to find out where I was stopping tonight. I'm going out again."

And he called out—Providence Journal

Prepared They had been planning their wedding. They had decided on a magnificent ceremony at the church, with a whole crowd of guests. Then they planned a wonderful reception with as much as would satisfy even the most voracious. Then "How about the honeymoon?" she asked coyly. "Well, what do you say to a trip to Europe for that?" he asked. "That," she objected, "you know how afraid of sea-sickness I am. I can't stand that water in even ten minutes."

The Mysterious Child

"Me and Gabe Giggery came riding along the big road the other day, just in time to see a little boy fall backwards into a hole in the creek," related Gabe Johnson of Hingham Ridge. "When we looked him over he was so clean we couldn't identify him. Gabe 'lowed he was mine and I 'lowed he was Gabe's, and so we took him to my home to find out how about it. Wife was away, and none of the kids 'lowed to know him. When we asked him to go to his home, and neither Mizzy Giggery nor none of the kids recognized the little fellow. Well, then Zeke Yawley came along, took a look at him and 'lowed he'd never seen him before in his life. Then the kid spoke up. 'Say, I'm getting drowsy tired of this foolishness.'—Just grabbed him up and tucked him under his arm, and he was in his bed, and he was fast asleep. I don't know where he came from. Dear old—Kansas City Star.

In Happy Days

The harvest-moon stands on the sea. Her shining rays drip. She glides the sheaves on many a bay. She calls on many a ship. Giggery went down upon the spray. And Giggery on the beach. Right fair they lay to show the way. Where lovers walk together.

The red wheat rustles, and the vines

Are purple to the root. And while the love, waiting patient, wins its blissful hour of rest. Lamp of all lovers, Lady Moon, light these glad lips together. Which burn along a happy path. Love ere September weather. —EDWIN ARNOLD.

RECEPTION AND SHOWER

Miss Mary Ryan, who is to be a Thanksgiving bride, was last evening honored a reception and shower at the home of her cousin, Miss Mary Daly, 10 South street, when about 100 friends gathered and presented Miss Ryan numerous gifts. The presentation address being made by Miss Daly. The house was prettily decorated for the occasion while in the center of the reception room was hung a huge web, which was a high school. Long ere September weather. —EDWIN ARNOLD.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

Considerable interest is being evinced by persons well known in the public life of the city in regard to the redistricting of the city's voting wards, which it is required by law must be done this year. Interest in the matter has been sharpened because of the long time taken in conducting the ballots cast at the state election Tuesday, when it was not until nearly 22 hours had elapsed following the closing of the polling booths that count of city vote was completed. Of all ideas it being said that the only way in which a redistricting of this can be avoided is by adding from 10 to 25 more precincts, so that the total registered vote in each precinct will be less than 1000. Questioned as to when the redistricting would come, Chairman Hugh McKee of the election commission would make no statement other than it would be done during the year, as provided by law.

Persons who have followed the matter since the bill was introduced, are not in the city necessary and who are prominent in the city's political life, have said and still maintain that the redistricting will not be done until December. At the present time the registration in our precincts is 2000, and in a number of others it is over 1000. Several years ago the election commission asked for an appropriation which would permit the installation of 12 new precinct booths and provide for the election of precinct officers to maintain the precincts. Instead of the present $1 would not be greater if, as it has been suggested by many, the number of officers is decreased, each booth from eight to six, as could easily be done. If each precinct had only 500 registered voters in its district. At present time the pay of precinct officers for an ordinary election is $250, whereas, with 15 precincts, each employing six men, for a single election would be but $3500.

It is too late, however, to make any changes this year as the location of each polling booth must be established by the first of July of the year in which an election of primary is to be held.

Although we have voted elsewhere the popular belief that Lowell is badly in need of more voting precincts, the following news-editorial from the Lawrence Evening Tribune, shows that the same condition of which we complain here exists elsewhere. In part the Lawrence paper says:

"If any proof is necessary to convince the mayor and members of the city council that they should relocate local precinct lines and increase the number of polling places, the congestion at the polls Tuesday and the unprecedented length of time consumed in securing complete returns of the Lawrence vote most certainly provided it. All day there was congestion at some polling places, while at 6 p. m. the rush was so great that the election officers in many instances were unable to handle all who had applied up to closing time and it was necessary to appeal to City Clerk E. J. Wade for a ruling and he instructed election officials to permit all persons to vote who were here at 6 o'clock. It was 7:10 a. m. Wednesday when the first precinct reported. That's super—predecessor! Of interest also is the ruling by the Lawrence city clerk that persons in line at polling places might vote. The same situation existed here, but no such ruling could be made, Lowell election officials said."

The Man About Town receives frequently from the editor of The Sun, consular reports arriving by mail from Washington that often contain interesting news items concerning our foreign trade and shipping and channels for the forwarding of Lowell-made textiles and other products of the varied manufactures bearing Lowell labels. If any local industrial organization ever takes advantage of these channels to create a foreign sales business, I have yet to hear of it. It has been said that forwarding goods to the Orient is "easy," that you are not sure of payments, and that goods are not always accepted after arrival and examination. There may be risks involved in sending goods to persons located on the other side of the globe, who are unknown and sometimes not endorsed, but American business can be created and carried on through consular channels, where plenty of advice and help can be obtained on demand, and foreign buyers seeking American shipments can be properly investigated and identified, as well as approved. If any Lowell manufacturer desires to engage in foreign trade of the Oriental stamp, it would be well to engage in a little inter-Asian steamship mail correspondence with some of our alert consuls over there in the Far East, East, England and India. They will be glad to cable and steamship goods. Lowell merchandise can be sold in the same way where courage is dominant. American consuls furnish reliable advice and recommendations always. That's what they are in the Orient for today.

Japanese cotton mills in Shanghai, where Saco-Lowell machinery finds its way regularly, even today, practically without exception report that they are losing money at the present time, producing goods without profit and their plant of operation is now only about 10 per cent of capacity. Notwithstanding backward conditions and poor prospects, the energetic Japanese executives of these new industries are doing everything possible to keep running. Lowell textile machinery is regularly supplied by the United States government with consular reports and news tips concerning the chances for 1925 foreign trade expansion. You will find printed reports encouraging trades from China, Japan, from Brazil and the Argentine, and even the land of the Boers where men from Lowell actually fought with other during American adventures many years ago.

A great difference and improvement in the appearance of Appleton street at night has resulted from the installation of the 300 B lights, used first in the city with success on the new Lawrence boulevard. Appleton street never was adequately lighted and the fact was still more apparent in comparison with the White Way in Gotham street. All dark spots along the street have been eliminated and householders and pedestrians welcome the improvement.

Development of land in the rear of the Morey school, running along Morey street as far as Shaw street, has been started by the new board of directors, and will be cleared and graded for playground purposes. The land is close enough to the present school play area to make it a much-needed addition for outdoor recreation purposes.

The first that a couple realize matrimony doesn't make two people one is when they buy their railroad tickets.

WHAT'S in those envelopes under your cap, you lad in a messenger's hat? What sort of messages have you on tap that are making you hurriedly scud? Phrases of business and weighty affairs. Wires of just greeting and such. Mesages of love when real sentiment flares or maybe a wire that's a touch.

You are the lad who is telling the world of the things to be told in a hurry. Into your business, through wires you are hurled, and the job keeps you all in a hurry. "Course you don't know what each message may say but you ever must carry the load that tells of a thrill or a passing away that is flashed o'er the telegraph code. When things are important enough for a wire, they're bound to be thrillers, indeed. You keep flames of interest in all things on fire as you make people sit up and read.

Movie Folk Under Military Discipline Filming of "Classmates" at West Point

BY JACK JUNGMEYER
N.E.A. Service Writer
HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 7.—John Robertson's production of "Classmates," a First National picture starring Richard Barthelmess, comes to the screen with the official sanction of West Point.

United States Military Academy officers and cadets figure as co-protagonists in the picture. And while the West Pointers became temporary actors, the regular movie folk were subjected to military routine.

Permission to use the historic academy for necessary backgrounds was granted by Brig. Gen. Sladen, commandant of the academy, father of Mary May Barthelmess, wife of the actor.

The movie company followed a working schedule prepared by Major Henry D. Lewis, adjutant of West Point.

The cameras caught military practice, cavalry drills, polo practice and pontoon bridge building. Many of the scenes were taken in the summer camp. In one hazing episode a group of first classmen were called upon to do the role of plagues. These jobs were in great demand because of the characterizations were considered fair game comedy.

At first the real actors were more nervous than the cadet-players. When word got around that Major levels was to appear in some of the scenes, every cadet in camp was on hand. The major was calm in spite of the tense gallery. Cadets not only served as actors but also as casting agents and assistant directors. They were always ready to round up for Robertson "just the right bunch of fellows" for whatever scene impinged.

Officers and cadets felt that "Classmates" and adapted from the stage play by William De Mille and Margaret Turnbull, afforded an excellent medium for informing the public about what's going on at West Point.

If the movie craze struck the cadets, the movie company felt the influence of military discipline. For once, everyone was on location on time in the morning. The cannon salute at half past five, with bugle and drum, routed out the actors' cameramen and stage crew. Robertson found that the routine of the academy, which went on inside of picture production, gave location work a regularity heretofore unknown.

A print of the completed picture and a complete set of still photographs will be presented to the library of the academy so that cadets returning as full-fledged officers may see how they looked as movie actors.

father dies penniless and she has only herself to sell. A family conference decides that she is to be educated, but this she resents because education is thought in her land to be only for the poor, clerical classes. Her tutor brings the heart complications that draw the story to a most colorful crisis.

Whether or later someone was bound to write the story of the conflict of German and American blood in an Anglo-German at the time of the World war and Robert B. McClure has done it in "The Dominant Blood" (Doubleday, Page). The mother is Italian, the father is American and the result shows in some admirably written scenes of his adolescence and childhood. He is surely an uncomfortable combination—although this reviewer has seen many such mixed ones who took it in no manner so hard. We understand that Booth Tarkington has agreed to it as "a big, fine piece of work," and who at we?

Jack Reichen, for some years managing editor of the Birmingham Post, is another newspaper man to turn novelist, his first work being "Red Rock" (Houghton, Mifflin), which, the survey is told, already has been sold to the movie. The scene is laid in the coal-mining belts, where the young hero decides to come up from the ranks by wedding the daughter of the company president. This he succeeds in doing, but the girl turns his motive, her love turns to hate and there is melodrama to burn in the strike excitement that takes place before he has "fought his way back."

Protest Attack by Fascisti Upon Unarmed Ex-Soldiers
Continued

Their contents abroad, General Garibaldi's manifesto follows:

"Thousands of combatants, who accomplished their most sacred duties today (Nov. 4), the anniversary of the victory in Rome, were cowardly assaulted, revolver shots coming from an ambush prepared and carried out by members of the Fascist militia.

"We, heirs to the Garibaldian tradition and representatives of the combatants for all liberties, denounce to the people the vile ambush, which dishonors the nation. The red shirts have always fought on all battlefields for the liberties of the peoples. It is repugnant to our thoughts that today bands of the government, knowing we were completely unarmed, surpassed in baseness the past tyrannies.

"For what has taken place we consider directly responsible the head of the government."

General Garibaldi is indignant because the newspapers published his protest in censored form. He declared that, together with other ex-soldiers, he would address an energetic protest to the king asking him to free Italy from turbulent factions and insure to all "that peace which since the end of the war has been vainly invoked."

He concluded: "I trust the crown will not refuse to intervene in such a grave moment for the safety of the country."

A Rome despatch Wednesday night said an official communication had been issued to the effect that "except for an outbreak in the Piazza Popolo during which 11 persons were injured," the celebration in Rome of the sixth anniversary of the Italian armistice with Austria had passed off quietly.

Disturbances at Turin, Naples, Trent and various other cities were declared by the official communication to be "insignificant incidents without any consequences."

A previous despatch from Rome mentioned that several paragraphs in a story in the newspaper Secolo, regarding the disturbances had been obliterated by government censors.

The prefect of Milan, it was added, had ordered the suppression of all of Tuesday's editions of the Corriere della Sera, the Avanti and the Giustizia for having published "inexact and exaggerated reports" of the incidents of Rome.

General Giuseppe ("Peppino") Garibaldi is a grandson of the great Italian patriot.

DIRECTOR OF WRECKED BANK FOUND GUILTY

TORONTO, Nov. 7.—Charles F. Smith of Montreal, one of the directors of the Home Bank of Canada, which failed in 1923 for $15,000,000, was found guilty today by County Judge Costworth on negligently signing or approving a false return to the government. Sentence was deferred.

Several other Home Bank officials are awaiting trial on charges of having variously contributed to the wrecking of the institution. Smith's conviction is the first.

CANDIDATES TAKE OUT PAPERS FOR RECOUNT

Cornelius J. O'Neil, who was elected representative in the 15th district, at Tuesday's election, took out papers for a recount at the office of the election commission yesterday afternoon, and Harry Leavitt, defeated for representative in the 14th district, took out similar papers this morning. Mr. O'Neil's action was taken, according to the election commissioners, to make sure that the whole district's vote would be recounted, as Fred O. Lewis, whom he defeated by a narrow margin, had already taken out recount papers.

Mr. Lewis' papers were filed this morning and request a recount in all the wards of the district so it is unlikely that Mr. O'Neil will file his papers as the recount will be conducted on Mr. Lewis' petition anyway.

BY THE N.E.A. BOOK SURVEY

It took a long time for the very literary essays to discover the art that lies behind vaudeville clownery, comic strips, jazz bands and the like.

Then, one day, Gilbert Seldes wrote the "Seven Lively Arts" and told New York what every vaudeville goer and comic reader in the rest of the country had known for years. New York learned with amazement that there of its funniest revues were commonplace vaudeville names about the "provinces."

All of which is by way of preface to a prediction—some day the very literary critics are going to discover Hugh Wiley's "Wildcat Macdonald" and Will James' cowboy stuff and realize that here are contributions, not only to the American folklore and background, but to the slang idiom of the time.

For years "the four-leaf wildcat" has been rambling his good natured, dapper way through Wiley's short stories. Now he appears in a new volume of tales, "The Prophet" (Knopf), which effort of plot invention often becomes "ton apparent but in which something like justice can be done the character."

Here is fabulous tale-telling of the Paul Bunyan school with a character that could be interpreted in a full chapter of symbolism; the complete realist and futuristic are combined in the "wildcat," who breaks things for him in spite of himself; he is the misanthropic man, the swashbuckler, Al Jolson, and all stage impersonations of the negro put together. His combination of made-to-order slang and biblical rhetoric are great stuff.

Already the "Wildcat's" dice-shooting thing is a slang classic.

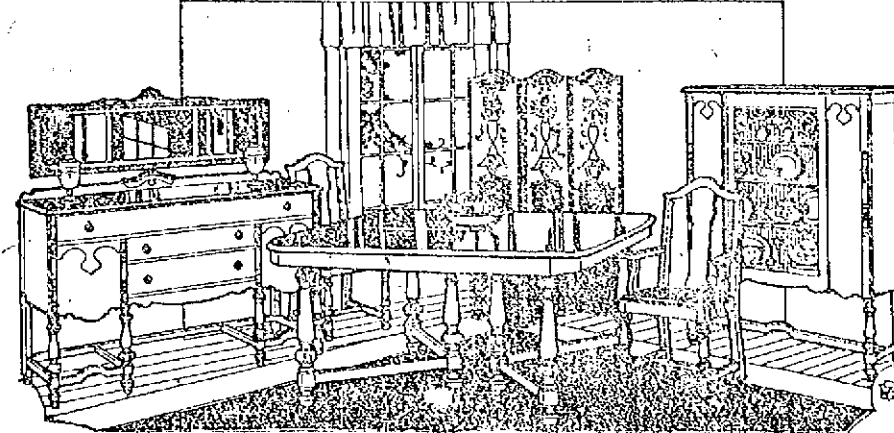

Will James in "Cowboys—North and South" (Scriveners) does a true-to-life job with the cowboy, giving to posterity his picturesque vernacular and background.

They are recommended for the student of the American scene and tongue.

"Shackled" (Brentano), by Ahmed Abdullah, is far and away the most colorful writing in many a week. No shells and snail-gals, we warn you. Rather a well-born Arab girl, whose father wishes her to marry none but a descendant of the "prophet." This man does not present himself. The

IN YOUR "NEAL O'HARA" HEART-TO-HEART TALKS WITH THE AVERAGE CITIZEN

4.—Why the cost of block paving has increased in the last twelve months under your administration from $1.20 per yard to approximately $7.07 per yard and why there has been a similar increase in reinforced concrete work.

5.—Why, last summer, you awarded a contract to the "Indian Head Construction Company" for many thousand dollars worth of street asphalt work, a supposedly local organization which has no telephone listed in the latest issue of the local telephone directory or in any prior printed issue and which, according to the Department of Corporations in the State House in Boston, has no identity as a corporation or otherwise and which, according to the companies which competed with it in the bidding, did not have the lowest bid.

6.—Why, after a statement appeared on Page 1 of the Sunday Telegram of December, 1923, in the issue published the week before election, which statement declared that in the event of your election your son-in-law, Mr. P. J. Reynolds, would not take the position of city solicitor as he already held one city position, you appointed this same Mr. Reynolds city solicitor and allowed him for two years to hold the two positions of city solicitor and city registrar of labor and receive two separate and distinct salaries from the city treasury, with many of our citizens in illdeness.

COMMON SENSE

When a merchant advertises his wares in a newspaper, he does not appeal to the paper, but to its readers. He solicits the patronage of those readers whether he agrees with the policy of the paper or not.

To refrain from advertising in a paper of wide circulation simply because he does not agree with the editor on all public questions, is not using common sense. It is, a form of business suicide. It has sent many short-sighted business men into bankruptcy. A dealer might as well put a sign over his store notifying all who do not think as he does that he does not want their patronage. Readers of newspaper advertisements know when and where their patronage is welcome.

NEW CONSERVATIVE GOVERNMENT PROTEST ATTACK BY FASCISTI ASSUMES OFFICE IN BRITAIN UPON UNARMED EX-SOLDIERS

Stanley Baldwin and Members of His Ministry Take Oath With Customary Ceremony at Buckingham Palace—New Cabinet Meets With Approval

LONDON, Nov. 7. (By the Associated Press.)—The new conservative government assumes office today with the customary ceremony at Buckingham Palace when Stanley Baldwin and the members of his ministry thus far chosen take the oath, receive their seals of office from the retiring laborites and comply with the other necessary formalities.

The new cabinet gets on the whole a very favorable reception from the London morning newspapers, even the opposition organs finding grounds for approval of many of the appointments. It is universally remarked that the ministry is much stronger than Mr. Baldwin's last administration, although the Times, while admitting this, regrets the inclusion of so many former office-holders and says:

"The public is looking with almost pathetic anxiety for the emergence of new leaders."

The appointment of Winston Churchill to such a dominant post as that of chancellor of the exchequer naturally arrests the main attention of the commentators, who remark upon the courage and independence shown by the premier in disregarding the inevitable hostility which the selection will provoke among a considerable section of the conservative ranks. "The choice itself is nowhere condemned and by several papers is cautiously described as 'welcome' sound or 'excellent'."

The exclusion of Sir Robert Horne is regretted by most of the papers, but his refusal of the ministry of labor, according to the Times, was "hardly so sensational as it has been depicted."

Asplen Chamberlain's appointment to head the foreign office is generally approved, his qualifications for the post, the political writers say, being far greater than is known to the public.

"The main gap in his experience," says the Times, "lies in America, which becomes more and more the most important feature in the British outlook on the world."

PRINCETON TEAM REACHES CAMBRIDGE

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 7.—The Princeton football team which is to meet Harvard in the Stadium for their annual game tomorrow, came here today to practice in the amphitheatre before taking up headquarters at the Belmont Springs Country club. Coach Roper said the Tigers were in "tip top shape," expect to "show a lot of real speed" and said he did not believe odds quoted at 2 to 1 on Harvard were justified.

Manifestos Issued in Consequence of Armistice Day Disorders in Piazza Popolo, Rome—Premier Mussolini Accused of Being Personally Responsible for Attack

CHIASO, Italy-Swiss Frontier, Nov. 7.—(By the Associated Press.) In consequence of the Armistice Day disorders in the Piazza Popolo, Rome, between Fascist and members of the "Italia Libera," an organization of dissident Fascists, the central committee of the latter organization as well as General Peppino Garibaldi have issued manifestos protesting against what they term the unwarranted attack by the Fascists upon unarmed ex-soldiers, and accusing Premier Mussolini of being personally responsible.

Both manifestos were stopped by the Italian censor when the foreign correspondents in Rome attempted to cable them.

There is still a question which of the two available Princeton backfields will start the game. The choice is between speed and strength.

The Harvard squad spent the night at Swampscott, on the ocean front, and only a few players came to the college for classes today. Several positions in the Harvard lineup also are still in doubt 24 hours before game time, but Crimson coaches felt that they had strength assured in each case regardless of the final choice.

JOINS SHOE WORKERS' PROTECTIVE UNION

HAVRHILL, Mass., Nov. 7.—The general office of the Shoe Workers' Protective union today announced the annexation of the independent local of eugenmakers, finishers and packers, numbering 250 of Brooklyn, N. Y. This is the latest of several of the shoe crafts of the greater New York district to affiliate with the protective organization. This mixed local has previously been without any affiliation. Great opportunity for building up the craft to a large membership, is provided, it is stated.

Overtures relative to consolidation, it is announced, have been received from two large Chicago shoe crafts, and organizers of the protective union are now in that district. General Agent Austin Gill, this city, returned this week from a tour of the middle western New York state shoe centers where he viewed the progress of this organization work.

"RADIO PHOTOGRAPHS"

Wave Flashed Across Ocean
Set Off Flash and Clicked

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—A radio wave flashed across the ocean from England last night, set off a powder flashlight, clicked a camera and made a photograph in the Grand Central palace where the National Radio Exposition is being held.

Major J. G. Harbord, president of the Radio Corporation of America, Helen Keller and Harold Roister, director of the exposition, were photographed by the unseen "radio photographer" who was stationed in Carnarvon, Wales. Many noted rapid engineers witnessed the feat—the first experiment of the kind ever attempted.

STAR FOOTBALL PLAYER HAS DISAPPEARED

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—Du Page county authorities have been asked to search for Danny Place, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Place of Nilesburg, Pa., and star end of the Wheaton College football team, who disappeared from the campus of the suburban school, near here, three weeks ago.

Friends of Place said he had been despondent since last summer when he learned that a young woman who attended Wheaton College Academy last year and to whom he had been engaged for several years, had married another. His former fiancée has written friends in the college that she has not seen him since she told him of her marriage.

Place was graduated two years ago from a missionary training school at Nyack, N. Y., and was completing a theological course at Wheaton college authorities said.

U. S. PAYS $6,836,000, 000 IN WAR PENSIONS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Wars in which the United States has taken part since 1790 exclusive of the World war, have cost the nation more than $6,836,000,000 in pensions.

Pensions for the Civil war totalled about $6,627,000,000, it was shown in figures announced today by the interior department, while those growing out of the Indian wars amounted to $25,000,000. Pensions for other wars include $15,000,000 for the war of 1812; $70,000,000 for the war of the revolution; $56,000,000 for the Mexican war, and $126,000,000 for the war with Spain.

THOUSANDS of users have wondered at the quickness of the action of Resinol Ointment and Soap. The answer is that it is not a surface treatment, but one that reaches the depths of the pores and attacks the source of the disorder, starting the healing right.

The first touch relieves the itching, burning and soreness and a few days persistent use rarely fails to clear away the trouble.

When the skin is once restored to its normal condition, the daily use of Resinol Soap is generally sufficient to keep it healthy. Ideal for the complexion—unsurpassed for the bath and shampoo. Ask your druggist what he knows about the Resinol products.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

(By the Theatre's Own Press Agents) H. F. KERRIN'S THEATRE.

Dancing is enjoyed by a very large percentage of all people and when it is done as well as William Seabury and Dorothy Hathaway do it at the R.

F. Keith theatre, this week, then the acrobat given it is very nearly 100 percent. Ward and Van are good musicians who have a real sense of humor and they bring it into their work. Jack George, blackface comedian, has a delightfully funny act, and Middleton and Spillmeyer present a somewhat different western story called "Long-some Land." Charles Dittmer, the Tyrolean baritone, is exceedingly satisfying with his work, and the bill opens with a bang when Moore & Grant appear. The week's picture is "Outwitted."

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE. Thrills and more thrills are the order at the Merrimack Square theatre where the Paramount production, "The Story Without a Name," is being shown with Agnes Ayres and Antonio Moreno in the leading roles. Here's a real oldtime hair-raiser, produced by the man who made the all-color picture, "Wonder of the World." The story is one of love, intrigue and adventure which carries spectators from a remote home in desert island and back again in a series of actionful scenes that more than please.

The Merrimack Square management offers a prize of $10 to the person who furnishes the best name or title for this story. Come to the performance and then send in your title to The Sun office. You have just as good a chance to win as your neighbor. All titles must be submitted before Saturday night.

A Harry Carey western feature, chapter 2 of "Into the Net" and a comedy are also on the bill.

These Girls too Ill to Attend School

DAUGHTER OF MRS. VLEGHER NORTH BALTIMORE, OHIO

AT no age does a young girl need greater care than from the time she reaches the age of twelve years until womanhood is established. Many a woman has suffered years of misery because as a girl she has been allowed to sit around with wet feet, lift heavy articles, overwork and overstudy. In all such cases Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound should be given as it is especially adapted for such conditions. It is a root and herb medicine, contains nothing harmful and may be taken in perfect safety by any school girl.

This Mother's Letter and Daughter's Photograph of Interest to Every American Mother

NORTH BALTIMORE, OHIO.—"My fourteen-year-old daughter took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound every month for weakness. One of her classmates in school who had the same trouble told her about it. She said: 'My mother makes me take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.' So that day she came home and told me and we got some the next day. She took three bottles of it and never has to stay home from school now from sickness. She is strong and well. I am sure if any mother writes to me I will be glad to answer her letter."—Mrs. VLEGHER, Box 61, North Baltimore, Ohio.

Another Mother Tells What It Did for Her Daughter

DANDRIDGE, TENN.—"My daughter was not able to go to school for almost a year because of pains in her side and other troubles girls often have. I was just giving one day what I could give her that would help her when I thought of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and decided I would get it for her. Since taking it she has gained to normal weight and goes to school all the time."—Mrs. GEORGE HANCOCK, Dandridge, Tenn.

REALTO THEATRE

Laughter and Thrills are monarch of the hour at Low's Rialto today and tomorrow where the P.H.O. picture, "American Manners," starring Richard Falmadge, is being shown. The daredevil stunts of the star will keep all those who see it at the edge of their seats. The action throughout is fast moving and the laugh-provoking situations are interwoven with romance. The plot deals with the heroism of a young Roy Thomas to save his father, a ship owner, from complicity in a smuggling plot, which threatens to get him into difficulties with the authorities. The story opens with Roy as a member of the American Olympic team. Upon his return to America he goes to work on the wharves where his father's offices are located, he uncovers the smuggler's plot, and after harrowing experience is eventually able to save his father. The real guilty party proves to be the general manager of the shipping company who is in love with the daughter of another shipping baron; so that in the end Roy wins both the glory and the girl. One of the real exciting moments of the picture, which is now to Lowell, comes when the star makes a high dive of 112 feet from the top of the mast of a vessel into the ocean to save the girl.

Buddy Roosevelt, likeable new western star, is also on the bill in "Biff-Bang-Buddy," a comedy western story that entertains and pleases. Freddie Harmanford, famous comedy horseman, stars in the comedy, "The Riding Master," while a Fox News concludes this splendid bill.

Pomona Grange

Annual business meeting and remained after the noon dinner period to participate in the afternoon social program, prepared for the entertainment of members, invited guests and the public at large. The number of grangers from the nine separate town organizations easily reached 400 at morning roll-call at 10:30 o'clock, and that number was increased before 12 o'clock by new arrivals, who desired to partake of Chelmsford grange ladies' delectable home-cooked dinner.

Chairman, Mrs. Lena Taylor; assistant, Mrs. Eva McMaster; aids, Mr. and Edwin Perham, Miss Abbie Ford, Mrs. Frank Lupton, Mrs. E. K. Lupton, Mrs. Katharine Smith, Frank McMaster and Mrs. Mary Rigby.

The morning session, when new officers for the coming year were chosen as announced above, also called for reading of annual reports, summaries of the past year's activities in membership, campaigning and fields of social pursuits for the good of Middlesex-North Pomona and subordinate granges.

All reports received from executive officers showed steady growth; no falling off in faithful support in any town in the district, and cordial encouragement from many outside fraternal fields for the great and flourishing Middlesex North Pomona Grange organization, which is still leading in enthusiasm and constant development.

A host of other similar associations in New England today.

Farm Problems to the Fore

This afternoon, members gathered in the lodge upper hall to be entertained by clever musicians and singers, and an excellent speaker, Director John D. Willard of the Massachusetts Agricultural college, Amherst. His subject was: "The Problem of the Massachusetts Food Supply."

Mr. Willard has spoken in many parts of the east during the past few months, warning rural citizens wherever he journeyed to address gatherings of earnest seekers for the truth, that Massachusetts was rapidly losing its prestige as a farming and market garden community. During his speeches delivered for the purpose of awakening the people of New England to the danger lying in this agricultural production decline found in many former flourishing farming communities, startling figures and facts that were impressive were presented. Many hearty county fairs of the past present had heard similar reports before and knew that they were true.

Mr. Willard's speech was delivered for the purpose of making many things clear to farmers and market men, who are today sometimes falling to huckle down to the intensive job of solving the problem of the dwindling Massachusetts food supply.

An excellent concert filled out the afternoon program, with the following artists appearing and offering musical numbers of charm:

Mrs. Ascher Symonds, cornetist; Mrs. Alma Humphries of Reading, pianist; Miss Queena Douglas, soloist. Readings by Mrs. Hugh Green were also much enjoyed.

Tonight, Pomona grangers will hold a formal ritual meeting, the chief event on the annual meeting night program being the conferring of the lodge fifth degree. This work is necessary at this time, as there will be no more degree rituals performed until spring. At the state convention in 1925, those who take the fifth degree in Odd Fellows hall tonight, will be prepared to take the sixth degree with honors.

Master Sarah K. Mooney urged all members eligible to take the degree tonight, to be present at or before 7 o'clock this evening, to be prepared for the ceremonies to follow.

Announcements read this morning before the formal nomination and balloting for 1925 Pomona officers, included informal notice of the Dec. 8 meeting to come. At the last meeting of the current year's activities in Lowell and the county towns in the subordinate division, Middlesex North Pomona grange will have well-informed speakers on hand to answer the stated question—"Are Our Electrical Conveniences Economical?" There will be an elaborate display of the latest devices in electrical "household helps," and competent demonstrators to explain everything in sight. Dinner will be served either by Lowell grange or Dunstable grange.

The day's program will include a current events' reading by Miss Ruth West Crosby and an address to grangers and the public at large at an open meeting in the afternoon, when "Home Economics" will be the discourse subject.

The vogue for the low-top corset brought with it a question that was a real problem to the well-groomed woman, namely—What to do with the ugly, unfashionable "bulge" which almost invariably appears over the low corset top? Ordinary Brassieres could not solve the problem to the satisfaction of every woman. So Model "Criss-Cross" Brassieres came forward with a solution that combines comfort and fashion—obtained by means of criss-cross boning, cleverly placed so as to flatten the diaphragm and banish the unsightly "bulge."

Two Porches Are Big Feature of This Four-Room Western Home

Courtesy, Curtis Companies, Clinton, Ia.

FLOOR PLANS AND EXTERIOR VIEW OF WESTERN HOME

A porch for day and a porch for night characterize this four-room western home. They add immensely to its comfort and housing capacity. Wide sliding and vertical battens, stripes, with overhanging eaves and exposed rafters, create a rustic impression for the exterior that is novel and artistic.

In speaking of this dwelling as a "four-room" house, some qualification is necessary. Besides the four main rooms (including two bedrooms), there is a dining alcove, an entrance, rear entry and a large sleeping porch that is a part of the house itself.

One enters the living room directly, either through the main entrance or from the living porch. There are windows on three sides of this room, but wall spaces are left for davenport and piano.

Only a case opening separates the dining alcove from the kitchen. Notice its convenient location with respect to the rest of the house.

In the kitchen, cupboard, work table, sink and range are efficiently arranged. The rear entry provides for an ice box.

Housewives' hearts will revel in the closet space provided upstairs. The clothes-closets of the two bedrooms are almost small rooms. In addition there is a commodious linen-closet.

A family of four or even more, in ordinary circumstances could be comfortably housed here without sacrificing in the least good taste, privacy and convenience.

The approximate cost of this home is $5300, figured at 25 cents per cubic foot.

AUTOPSY ON BODY OF FORMER K. OF C. HEAD TO REOPEN FACTORY PLANT IDLE 4 MONTHS

WHITEFIELD, N. H., Nov. 6.—An autopsy on the body of James Travis, past grand knight of the Knights of Columbus council here, which was found in a mill pond yesterday, developed no signs of violence. It was announced this afternoon. Organs, however, were removed by State Pathologist Kingsford, and taken to Hanover for chemical analysis. Until this is concluded the official report of the autopsy will be withheld.

County Solicitor M. J. Ryan came here to investigate reports that Travis, whose body was weighted down by two sunken logs, had been killed because of anti-Klan activities. Letters with threats had been received by him recently, it was said.

Travis had returned to his garage early yesterday morning, accompanied by Emil Dube, a friend. Dube said he left Travis when the latter started to enter his home. Mrs. Travis heard the car being placed in the garage, heard the door bell ring, but when she answered it a few minutes later there was no one there. The body was found in a mill pond half a mile away several hours afterward.

ROCKLAND, Mass., Nov. 6.—Edward Friedman, Inc., of New York has purchased the business of the Emerson Company, and will reopen the factory, which has been idle for four months, on or about Dec. 1.

The action of the directors of the company was confirmed at a meeting of the stockholders conducted yesterday at the factory. The meeting lasted for five hours.

The sum of $300,000 was paid for the factory, equipment, trade marks, goodwill and all tangible assets of the firm. The sale does not include cash, receivables, or the New York lease of the company.

These intangibles, together with the price paid are expected to provide sufficient funds for payment of between 20 and 25 cents on each dollar of first preferred stock in the shoe company and class A stock in the shoe store companies when the affairs of the Emerson Company have been wound up.

The affairs of the Emerson Company will be continued until all creditors are paid.

TROOPS OF GEN. CHANG REACH TIENTSIN

TIENTSIN, Nov. 6.—(By the Associated Press.)—Troops of General Chang Tso-Lin, victorious Manchurian war lord, who has defeated the armies of the Peking government, arrived here last night from Shanhaikwan.

A train of forty cars which carried the Manchurian soldiers was preceded by a flat car with a sand bagged platform upon which a gun was mounted, ready for action should the train draw fire from a remnant of the Peking troops scattered along the railroad.

The three cars immediately behind the mounted gun carried 200 Russians in the army of General Chang.

The Russian troops will be sent to Nanking and two trainloads of Chang Tso-Lin's Japanese troops will follow.

As night fell approached the Chang Tso-Lin troops arrived in Tientsin in a steady stream. They were under strict instructions to maintain order and are creating an excellent impression with the non-combatant public.

According to officers, the Manchurian army includes five thousand Russians and 400 Japanese.

Sentries of Peng Yu-Hsiang were on duty at the Tientsin central railway station when the Manchurian troops arrived and this indicates the approval of the advance of the Manchurian army from the north.

Entrance of Chang Tso-Lin forces into central China indicates that the Manchurian leader will take an active hand in organizing the government under Peng Yu-Hsiang.

NEW TRUSTEES FOR PRINTERS' HOME

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 6.—Steven O'Donnell, of Colorado Springs, Col., and E. D. Ballentine of Newark, N. J., will be elected trustees of the Union Printers' Home, Colorado Springs, at a meeting of the board in Colorado Springs, Saturday.

Vacancies were left on the board by the death of Thomas McCaffery, resident trustee, and election of Seth Brown, Los Angeles, as vice-president of the International Typographical union. Mr. Brown's resignation as trustee will be offered at the Saturday meeting.

Rules of the union provide that the board must meet in Colorado Springs to elect the trustees.

James M. Lynch, newly installed president of the International Typographical union, will be elected member of the board and chairman.

PONZI ON TRIAL

BOSTON, Nov. 6.—Charles Ponzi, former financial wizard, entered upon his own defense today at his trial in superior court on charges of larceny in connection with his international postal coupon scheme. The trial opened yesterday and the government's case was complete at noon.

ESTABLISHED IN 1639 CLEAN UP GANG OF 75 COUNTERFEITERS

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 6.—With the arrest of Nicholas Derlengo of this city today, the Federal authorities believed they have practically cleaned up the gang of 75 men which for some months past have been flooding the eastern part of the country with counterfeit $10 federal reserve bank of Boston notes. The bills were made here and in Burlington, Derlengo when arraigned in the United States court here today pleaded not guilty to a charge of selling $10,000 worth of counterfeit notes to Francis Sullivan, Angelo de Carlo, Eugene de Vito and Charles Capamann, all of Newark, N. J., for $320.

The bills are believed to have all been passed in Newark. Derlengo was held in $2500 bail for appearance in the federal court in New Jersey when wanted. The federal authorities have seized $75,000 worth of the counterfeit notes, up to date.

TWO NEGROES ELECTED IN ILLINOIS

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—For the first time, so far as known here, a negro has been elected a judge of an American court of records. He is Albert B. George, elected Tuesday to the municipal court of Chicago.

The first negro ever to sit in the Illinois state senate also was elected. He is Adelbert H. Roberts, who long has been a court clerk.

"I am impressed with the thought that the welfare of our group may be seriously affected either for good or harm by my conduct," George said. "I am sensible to the fact that it will be my duty to be a good judge in every sense of the word."

George attended school in Washington, D. C., studied law in the office of a white attorney in Altoona, Pa., and afterward was graduated from Northwestern university law school.

PAPAL NUNCIO MEETS PREMIER HERRIOT

PARIS, Nov. 6.—Monsieur Benoit-tura Cerretti, papal nuncio in Paris, met with Premier Herriot today to discuss the status of religious orders in France.

It is understood that the representative of the Vatican is requesting M. Herriot to take a position before the chamber concerning Roman Catholic institutions and to declare whether he intends to follow the socialist policy of expulsion or whether he will favor permitting the congregations to remain in France.

TAX EXEMPTIONS

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Nov. 6.—Florida voters have swung into existence by a big majority the amendment to the state constitution which exempts from taxation inheritance and income. The unofficial vote shows today a lead for the amendment of about seven to one.

SENATOR ELECTED

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—The New York state delegation in the national house of representatives will include one socialist, Fiorella H. Laguardia. Laguardia, who was elected to the last congress as a republican this year was chosen as a socialist.

Site of First American Post-office in Boston Now Marked by Tablet

BOSTON, Nov. 6.—The site of the first American postoffice, established here in 1639, was marked today by the placing of a tablet on the front of the building now occupied by the Boston Globe.

The postoffice was installed in the bar room of Richard Fairbanks' tavern. For the next 70 years it was kept in the same general location, now known as newspaper row. It was moved away temporarily after the fire of 1711, but soon was brought back to the neighborhood, in which it has since stayed.

The tablet, which is executed in pale green slate, has at the top a medallion with the figure of a pony express rider encircled by a wreath. Below is the inscription: "The first post-office in the American colonies stood near this spot."

There is written below an excerpt from the order of the general court of Massachusetts establishing the post-office: "Richard Fairbanks, his house in Boston is the place appointed for all letters, and he is to take care that they be delivered or sent according to their directions."

In New York

Just 25 years, a bare quarter of a century, makes the difference between this scene and congested, mechanical Forty-second street, New York today. The plodding car horses drew their loads from ferry to ferry at the ends of the street.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Judge Gilbert H. Gary, steel magnate, has Box 19 in the famous Golden Horseshoe of the Metropolitan Opera which has just opened its season with "Aida." It is reported along Broadway that he paid Henry Price $200,000 for the box.

In 21 years only seven boxes in the Golden Horseshoe have changed hands. In 1902 the 35 boxes in the famous circle were sold for $10,000 each, but the purchasers paid an additional $30,000 tax to support the venture.

The original holders drew lots for choice and J. P. Morgan won in the draw. He selected Box 35, the one farthest from the stage. He was also seventh in the draw and took Box 31 as his second choice. However, one of the high-bats were disappointed in the drawing and concessions had to be made. In the final alignment Box 31.

One not only buys social prestige when purchasing a box in the Golden Horseshoe, he makes a worthwhile investment as well. The property on which the Metropolitan stands at 40th street and Broadway was recently appraised at $4,050,000 by the city.

And if one doesn't care to attend every performance, a box with its six seats can easily be rented for $100. There are 120 performances during the season.

With only seven changes in ownership in the Golden Horseshoe it is to be presumed that the upper crust of New York society has been deuced but little since 1892.

Along the North river docks . . . A Portuguese sailor with a livid scar on his neck, his blouse turned down as though to bawl at it. What's his story? A grizzled old fellow in rags watching the tide flow up the river. Watching and seeing nothing. What's his story? Under a distracted freight car a young fellow, filthy and unkempt, curled up there like a bit of human refuse washed ashore. What's his story? Out of a window above, a squalid tawny stable, a little boy, pale, listless, lonely. Immediately before him nothing but human, seamy masses as the background great ships come and go from the Seven seas. Or what is he dreaming? What will his story be?

NO SECOND INFLATION PERIOD IN GERMANY

BERLIN, Nov. 6.—(By the Associated Press.)—There will be no second inflation period in Germany, if the Reichsbank can help it, Dr. Carl von Gismann declared today on behalf of the Reichsbank directorate, in discussing the new Reichsmark which will be circulated next week and which will absorb the Reichsmark.

"We have had more than enough of one inflation," he said, "and the whole machinery of the government will fight possible attempts to injure the value of the new currency. In the opinion of the directorate, the foundation has been created for an absolutely stable currency."

The new notes will be denominated at 10, 20, 50, 100 and 1000 marks.

GILPATRIC LEAVES FOR ATLANTA PENITENTIARY

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 6.—Harold Gilpatric, former state treasurer and defuncting cashier whose peculations wrecked the First National bank of Putnam, Conn., left this city at 12:40 this afternoon for the Atlanta penitentiary to commence service of the sentence of fifteen years' imprisonment imposed in the United States court last week by Judge E. S. Thomas.

Gilpatric pleaded guilty to charges of embezzlement of amounts aggregating about $350,000 from the Putnam bank in 1914, following his attempted suicide at his home last August.

GARAGE FIRE CAUSES LOSS OF $250,000

BRADFORD, Pa., Nov. 6.—The Star Garage and about 200 automobiles stored within it were destroyed by fire here this morning with a loss estimated at $250,000.

The fire started on the second floor of the three-story building after an explosion and within a few minutes was beyond control. Firemen confined their efforts to saving nearby buildings.

CLEANER MOTION PICTURES URGED

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Nov. 6.—Cleaner motion picture plays were urged as a safeguard against waywardness of youth by the New Jersey congress of Mothers and Parent Teachers association in convention here today. Mrs. Charles H. Bacon, chairman of the committee on better films, declared.

"We feel that there must be soon an awakening in this respect on the part of parents and guardians in the home if we hope to save the present generation for useful and respectful citizenship."

Mother congresses throughout the country were reported to be issuing bulletins listing "approved films" with a view to influence theatre men.

SEC. MELLON TO REMAIN AT POST

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—In the discussion of cabinet changes it is generally agreed by government officials that Secretary Mellon, who has been working on taxation questions, will be content to remain at the head of the treasury department if his services are desired.

Mr. Mellon declined to discuss the subject today, saying he had given it no consideration. He added, however, that he had not considered asking the president to look elsewhere for a head for the treasury department after next March 4.

BROKER PLEADS GUILTY

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—DeWitt C. Raynor, one of the stock brokers in New York, pleaded guilty today on charges of having used the mails to defraud, pleaded guilty before Federal Judge Hand today just after a jury had been drawn.

Raynor was the senior member of the curb brokerage house of Raynor, Nicholas & Truesdell, which failed for $1,000,000 in 1922.

SENATOR-ELECT INJURED

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Nov. 6.—Alfred M. Bessette, state senator-elect of this city, was one of four men who suffered injuries early this morning when the automobile being driven by Mr. Bessette collided with a tree in Dighton after the machine had left the road. Mr. Bessette was confined to his room as a result of the accident, suffering from injuries to the chest and head.

PRESENT RETURNS GIVE COOLIDGE 382 VOTES IN ELECTORAL COLLEGE

In 1920 Harding Received 404 Votes—President Also Assured of Working Majority in Both the House and Senate—Returns Incomplete

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—As final returns from doubtful states and districts trickled in today, it appeared that President Coolidge had carried North Dakota, and probably New Mexico, and that the political lineup in the new congress would be as follows:

Senate: Republicans, 54; democrats, 19; farmer-labor, 1; vacancy, 1 (Connecticut).
House: Republicans, 246; democrats, 184; farmer-labor, 2; socialist, 2.
At adjournment of congress in June there were in the senate 61 republicans, 43 democrats and 2 farmer-labor and in the house 225 republicans, 207 democrats, 1 socialist, 1 farmer-labor and 1 independent.

In several senatorial contests, notably the one in Iowa, and in half a dozen congressional districts the races were so close that recounts might alter the results.

Regardless of the outcome, however, the republican organization in both the house and senate seemed assured of a working majority, with the La Follette insurgents unable to get anywhere by forming a coalition with the democrats.

With North Dakota in the Coolidge column, the president's electoral vote, in the event he holds his lead in New Mexico, will be 353, that of Davis, confined to the "solid south," 136 and La Follette's 13—his home state of Wisconsin.

In 1920 Harding received 404 electoral votes and Cox 157.

Women to Report Vote

SEATTLE, Nov. 7.—Mrs. Samuel Cosgrove, widow of Washington's former governor, is to be chosen to take the state's seven electoral votes to Washington, D. C., and cast them for President Coolidge. It was learned today when the winning electors assured her their support. She is to be the first woman in the history of the state selected for this honor.

Sen. Magnus Johnson Re-elected

ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 7.—Minnesota will have a republican United States senator in the regular session of congress as the result of the election of Representative Thomas Schall to the seat now held by Magnus Johnson, farmer-labor, in Tuesday's election.

Senator Johnson, after scanning unofficial returns from nearly all the precincts in the state, which gave Schall a lead of 10,000 votes last night, said the figures indicated "he had been defeated."

Returns from 3,513 precincts out of 5,607 in the state gave Schall 330,277, and Johnson 305,329, a lead of 10,448 for Schall.

Contest Over Brookhart's Seat

DES MOINES, Ia., Nov. 7.—(By the Associated Press).—With indications pointing to a possible contest in the United States senate over the seat of Senator Smith W. Brookhart, republican, preparations were made through town today for the official count, to be started next Monday.

The lead of Senator Brookhart over Daniel F. Steck, democratic candidate, today remained at 1,116. This figure probably will remain unchanged as the unofficial majority unless county auditors, who still were scanning their records for possible errors, find discrepancies that were not uncovered in the thorough re-check made yesterday.

The first definite word of a possible contest came last night with the announcement by Secretary of State Lansing that he had been advised by Democratic National Committeeman Clyde L. Harding that the senatorial race would be contested. Secretary Lansing notified county auditors to take great care in preservation of the ballots preparatory to the official count.

Mr. Brookhart, considers himself elected. He arrived here early to take a hand in the check of the state being made by his campaign headquarters.

North Dakota for Coolidge

FARGO, N. D., Nov. 7.—North Dakota's five electoral votes as a result of Tuesday's election seemed assured for President Coolidge in the face of nearly complete but unofficial returns tabulated early today.

Returns from 1,645 precincts out of 2,150 in North Dakota early today gave President Coolidge 92,809 and La Follette, 52,516.

G.O.P. Sweep in Missouri

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 7.—Victory for republican candidates in Missouri from president down to the smallest state officer, with few exceptions, was shown in returns available today.

President Coolidge, according to republican headquarters, will carry the state by a plurality of probably 60,000, figured on the basis of the returns from all but 157 of the state's 1,930 precincts.

COOK RE-ELECTED BY OVER 50,000 VOTES

BOSTON, Nov. 7.—State Auditor Alton B. Cook, republican, was re-elected in Tuesday's balloting over Sarah V. Claggett, democratic candidate. In a plurality which may exceed 50,000, according to a state-wide canvass of the vote made yesterday.

Mr. Claggett, who had made a vigorous campaign against Cook, with the support of a number of prominent republicans, was inclined to believe himself elected early yesterday after scanning scattering returns from the cities and from Greater Boston towns.

But the counting rooms failed to rally to the democratic candidate's support as had been anticipated. The actual vote of 150 towns, representing more than two-thirds the town-voting strength, gave Cook a plurality of 49,000, which, added to his margin of 35,000 in the outside cities, was alone sufficient to offset the 87,000 advantage which Mr. Claggett received from voters in Boston.

FOR DISABLED VETERANS

"National Forget-Me-Not Day" Tomorrow—Canvassers Will Collect Funds

Tomorrow on the streets of Lowell and suburban towns, loyal, warm-hearted friends of disabled World war veterans will be solicited on many sidewalk thoroughfares by volunteer feminine canvassers, to give generously of what money they can afford, to maintain a people's relief fund used 12 months in the year by Lowell chapter No. 6, D. A. V. of the W. W.

All money collected is employed in volunteer work of distributing comforting relief supplies and good cheer to heroes who are in need of medical aid and the common comforts of life. Leaders and many friends of the local Disabled American Veterans' flourishing chapter have successfully enlisted the support of sympathetic women's clubs and girls' religious and social organizations, who will help to sell forget-me-nots to pedestrians on the Lowell highways and byways tomorrow.

Stores and office buildings will be canvassed by the willing workers in the splendid cause. Enthusiastic volunteer feminine workers declare that an attempt will be made to fairly "shower" the city with the significant little forget-me-nots, that are to be carried by the collectors in baskets and distributed in every corner of the city.

Canvassers have been delegated to appear on Saturday morning at the gates of manufacturing establishments where employment is the rule.

Everything is reported to be in readiness for tomorrow's city-wide campaign to collect funds for the relief of disabled veterans of the World war. The active committee representing Lowell chapter No. 6 is immensely pleased with the co-operation on the part of volunteer workers always ready to assist in similar campaigns when called to aid deserving charitable projects.

The "National Forget-me-not" money canvass tomorrow in Lowell and vicinity has the warm endorsement of President Calvin Coolidge and many national, state and civic leaders. The annual collections are to be carried on in the future, until the nation fulfills its promise to take care of all disabled war veterans in the way they should be taken care of, members of Lowell chapter said today.

All money contributed to the feminine canvassers tomorrow, is to be

LEGION DESIRES PEACE, SAYS DRAIN IN LETTER TO COOLIDGE

National Commander Assures President That His Sentiments As To Observance of Armistice Day Are the Sentiments of the Legion

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—President Coolidge today made public a letter from James A. Drain, national commander of the American Legion, who assured him that "your sentiments" as to the observance of Armistice day are the sentiments of the Legion.

Mr. Drain's letter was in reply to a communication from the president who suggested that the Legion emphasize the need of peace in its Armistice day celebration.

The Legion desires peace, its commander wrote, and "strives for peace as its opportunities for accomplishing itself with the alternative of peace have been exceptional."

Mr. Drain said, the Legion "is doing what it can to advance the day when armistice may be reduced and hopes that its labor may help to hasten the time when a convention of the powers will be called to reduce all military establishments. But until that day does come the Legion will insist that the United States take steps of its own to make war and the prospect of war more remote.

"To this end," he continued, "the Legion has long advocated and will press for enactment at the coming session of congress, of what is popularly known as the universal draft bill, which would place on all citizens an equal obligation in war by utilization through the government of arm power to fight, man power to work, factory power to produce, and money power to finance. This is a peace measure because it places the burdens of war equally upon all citizens. It is a preparedness measure because it provides the nation with the means for defending itself with a maximum of efficiency and minimum of cost."

The Legion believes there will never be lasting peace until we have justice between nations, and this means the creation of some form of competent world court. It will put forth all efforts to attain this."

MRS. HARDING ABLE TO TAKE NOURISHMENT

MARION, O., Nov. 7.—The condition of Mrs. Florence King Harding, widow of President Harding, was improved today.

Clifford B. King, a brother, arrived at the bedside from Florida.

The following bulletin was issued by Dr. Carl W. Sawyer:

"Mrs. Harding's condition completely last night and is better today. Her strength was greater and she was able to take some nourishment."

PLANE THAT ENCIRCLED GLOBE OFF FOR CHICAGO

DALLAS, Texas, Nov. 7.—After a night's rest here, the Chicago, flagship of the three army planes that encircled the globe, took the air at 8:55 o'clock this morning for Chicago, where Captain Lowell Smith, commander of the flight, said that the plane would be placed on exhibition. The other two ships of the round-the-world squadron, the New Orleans and the Boston II, which are flying to New Orleans, spent last night at San Antonio.

Mayor's Proclamation

The following "Forget-me-not Day" proclamation was issued by the mayor today:

Tomorrow is Forget-me-not Day. It is a day not made each year to remember those of our boys who were severely disabled in the late World war. We all remember those dark and depressing days of the war; when the entire world was plunged beneath a dark cloud. With the signing of the Armistice came the bright light again. But to many the gloom was only thickened. Hundreds of our soldiers, sailors and marines returned from the battle-fronts crippled for life. To them the darkness and gloom will never be fully brushed aside. On Forget-me-not Day every citizen of this community will have a chance to remember those brave boys. I urge everyone to give and to give as generously as possible. It is through such acts as these that our boys may be remembered.

GOLDMAN-RUGG CASE

COUNCILORS SILENT ON BRIDGE QUESTION

Considerable doubt is expressed by councilors questioned today concerning what their action will be when the $125,000 loan order for a bridge over Beaver brook, which was voted by the mayor yesterday, comes up again at the next regular council meeting.

Councilors questioned this morning would not say whether they would vote to over-ride the veto or not, saying that they required time to investigate, the matter more thoroughly before deciding upon their course of action.

Councilor Arthur Genest, one of the first proponents of the plan, said that the matter had been distorted and that what the people of the district want is a bridge with short approaches, which is provided for in the plan, and not the regrading and paving of the whole of Conduit street in addition to the bridge itself. While the people of the district do not look forward to the time when it would be feasible to have the whole of Conduit street raised to a high water level and paved, they did not look at a proposition of the present, he said, but as one to be acted upon when the growth of the city warranted the expenditure of such a large sum as would be necessary.

Councilor Sautter said that while he couldn't say what his vote would be, he believed the people of the district should have some kind of a bridge, but that the expenditure of a half a million, which it is claimed is necessary to make a thorough job, would be out of the question at the present time.

Other councilors questioned would not make any statement, asking for time to go into the matter thoroughly before deciding one way or the other.
